Our advice to.. Underclassman

"When it comes to classes, put in the most effort, it will effect your last two years! Also get involved with as much as you can." - Claudia Vilchez

"Never under estimate yourself, always strive for your goals and you will soon get there" - Dennis Simmons

Focus on you and your grades, other than that... HAVE FUN! - Bree Furrow

"Stay on top of yourself, realize who your real friends are. I promise you it's worth it. Get involved as much as you can, you only have four years, make the most of it" -Emily Marr

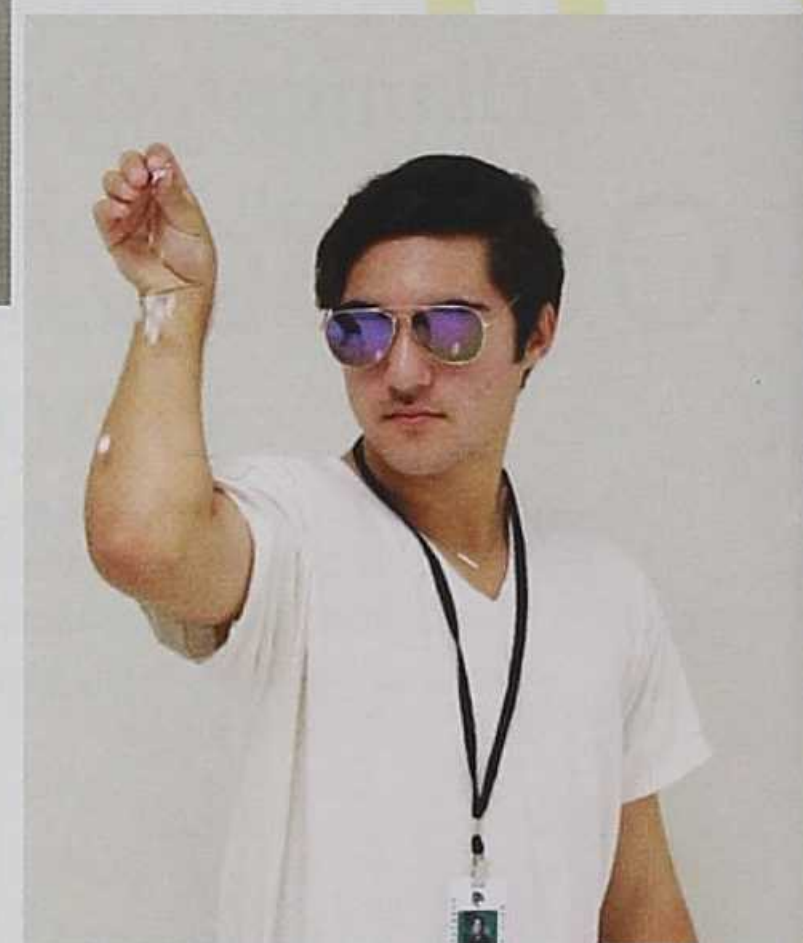

Each year, senior officers have come up with ideas that have helped everyone around the school. As seniors, these girls have a huge responsibility, not only in the school, but also in their community. The senior class of 2018 had been working ever since their freshman year to make this year their best year. The individuality that shows through each senior is very admirable. We for sure will miss every single one of them next year, no doubt. Each officer has a specific role in leading the school, and their class as a whole.

Class Officers

Homecoming Week dress up days get everyone excited for the big event on Friday night. Instead of traditional dress-up days, Student Council officers nominated unique and modern themes. On Meme Monday, students dressed as their favorite internet meme. The costumes people came up with were both comical and fun. Tuesday's Tacky Tourist had students dressed in wacky and tacky clothing. The mismatched socks and straw hats really gave the school a whole new atmosphere.

Meme & Tourist Day

Megan Herman: "It was really cool to see everyone dress up. They all came up with really cool costumes."

Jisoo Chong: Poses for the camera in the ultimate tourist outfit. "I had so much fun with this one, mostly because I already had most of my stuff."

Alex Gnash: shows off her meme shirt. "This is the year, GO WILDCATS!"

Tyler Aguliar: Emobdies Salt Bae. "It was really fun to dress up as an icon."

On Thursday everyone participated in Throwback Thursday, even the teachers. Students dressed up in all kinds of different decades. Many students dressed up as their parents, or even themselves as children. The most dressed decade was the 90's as many students had clothes that represented this time.

Coach Groff: Coach Groff, Coach Watson and Coach Munson show off their old basketball uniforms for throwback Thursday. "It was really cool to be able to participate with the kids and dress up."

Coach Munson: "I thought that day was the best part. To be able to dress up with the students and participate in such an exciting week for the school."

Emily Fitch: "The throwback Thursday has always been a dress up day everyone looks forward to during homecoming week."

World Wide & Throwback

Homecoming

A Five Star Night

Always a special tradition, Homecoming provides a week of dress-up days, a spirited pep rally, over-the-top mums, frantic hall decorating, and of course, the return of old friends. The anticipation to learn who would win at Homecoming was less certain.

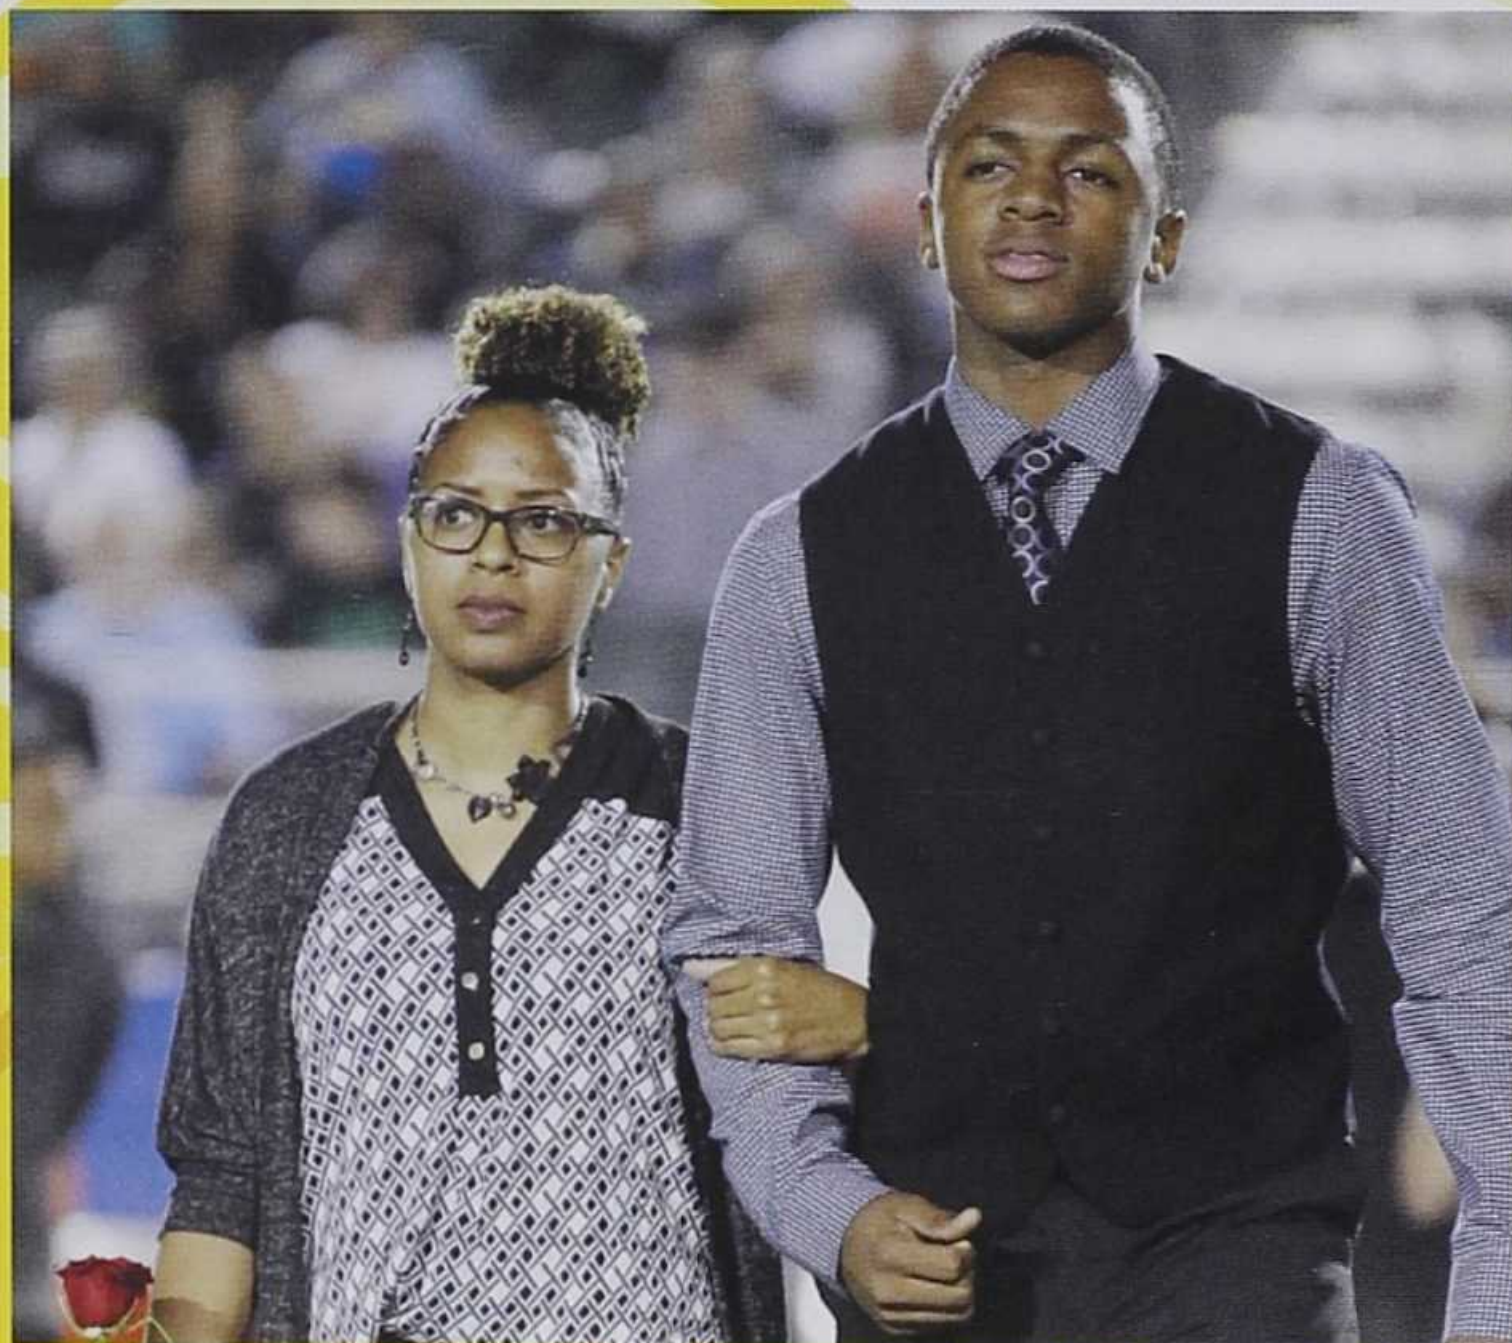

After days of hard work, Mr. Aleman awarded the hall decoration prize to the Class of 2018. Later in the evening under the halftime lights, Aleman crowned Claudia Vilchez and Uniikye Washington Homecoming Queen and King. The predictable win went to the Football Team who rolled over Whitehouse to bring the game home.

Claudia Velchez:

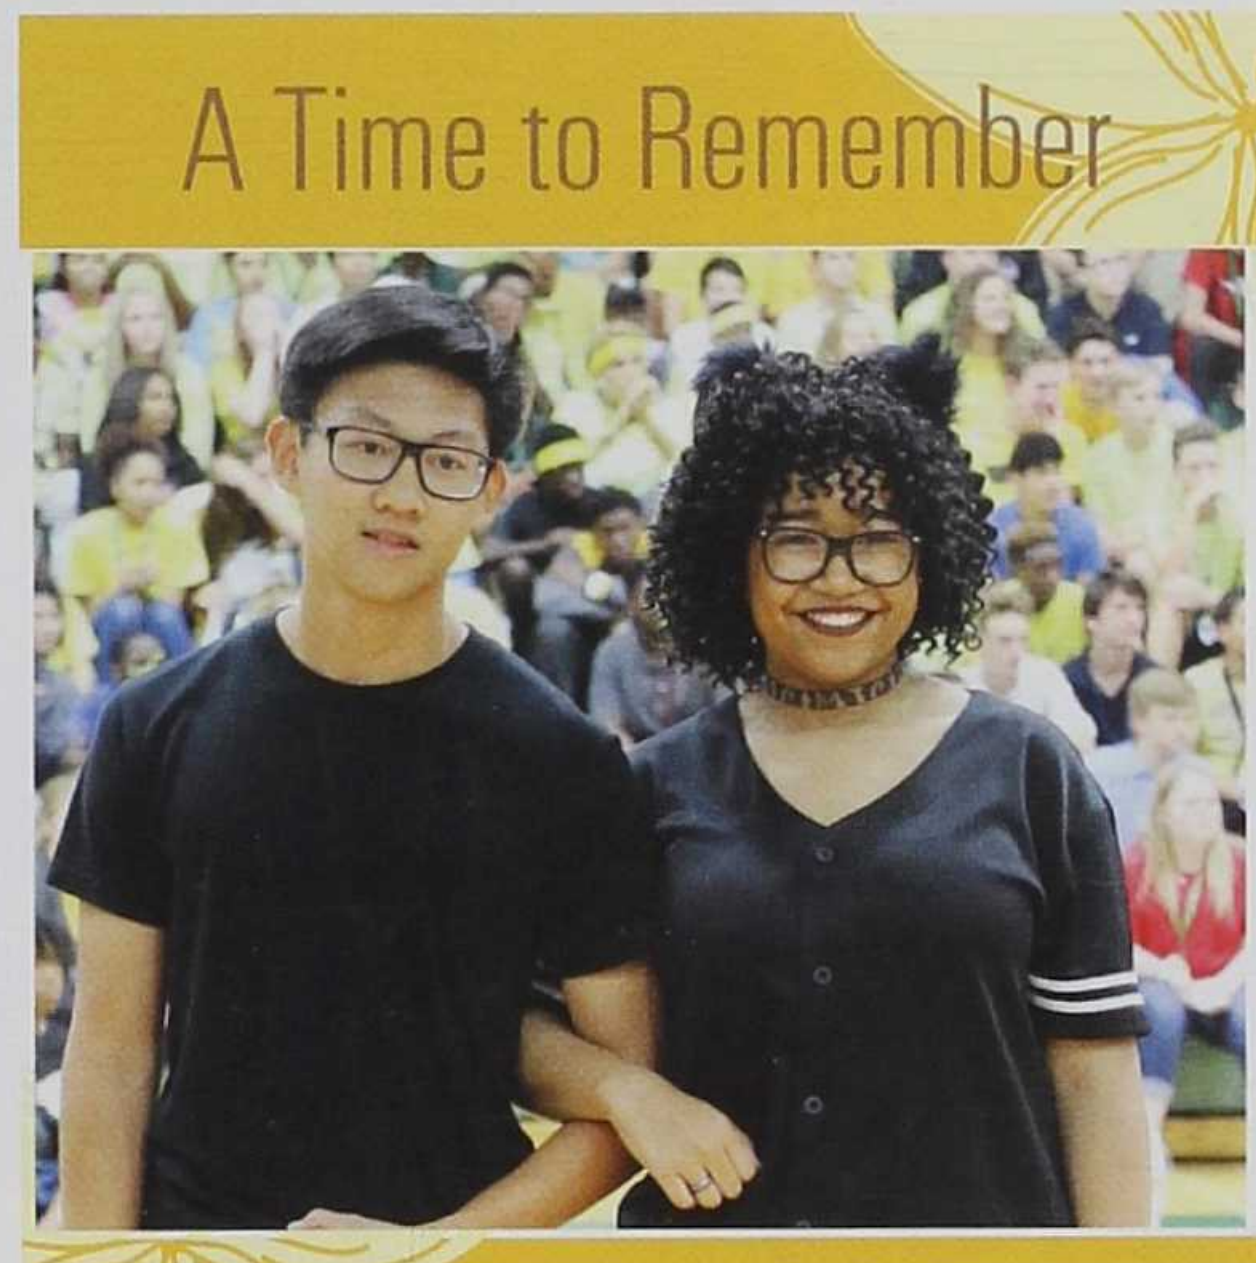

"Homecoming was so much fun and I'm glad I got to experience it with some of my closest friends."

Chris Chen: "It was an honor to be nominated to be on the homecoming court. It was really fun and a memorable experience that I will never forget."

Karrington Davis: "It was an unexpected experience. It all happened very fast and it was all over so quick but it was something I'm glad I got to experience."

A Time to Remember

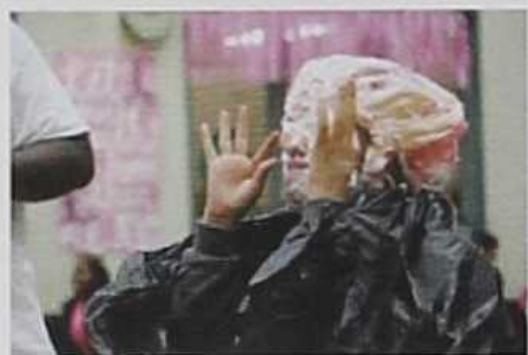

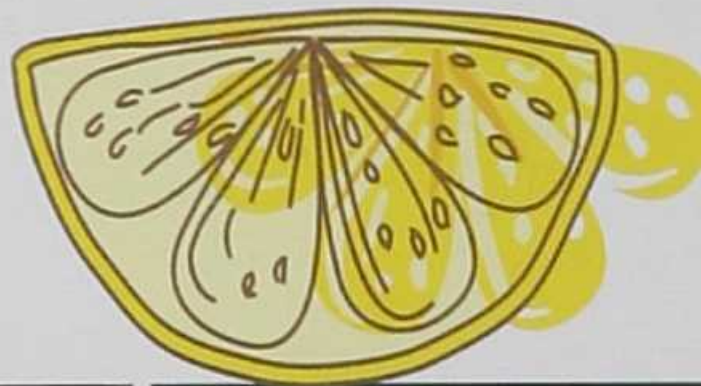

Jisoo Chong: "It was a great experience being able to be a part of the court. I feel fortunate to have been able to represent my class, and I will cherish this memory."

Dan Nguyen and Karrington Davis were paired to walk into the gym together as they were announced to be nominated for the Homecoming court.

Dan Nguyen: "Uh Yeah."

PINK OUT

"It was Exhilarating"
- Leland Murphy

"Wow did we just do that?"
- William Badger

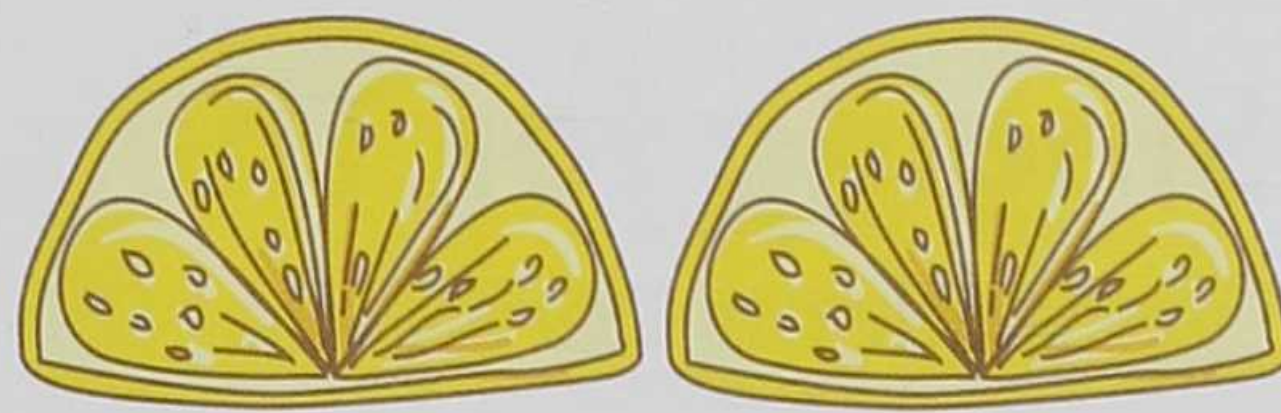

Pink Out is not only a special occasion but also a tradition that raises awareness of breast cancer. Students look forward to this particular pep rally all year. Special guest Dr. Albert Parra talked about breast cancer to help spread information. The Aristokats and cheerleaders also performed dances. One of the most exciting things people look forward to at the pep rally is the pie in the face. Leland Murphy and William Badger had the winning raffle tickets that earned them the privilege to throw pies in the faces of Coach Munson and Mr. Schenck. This years Pink Out pep rally is one to remember.

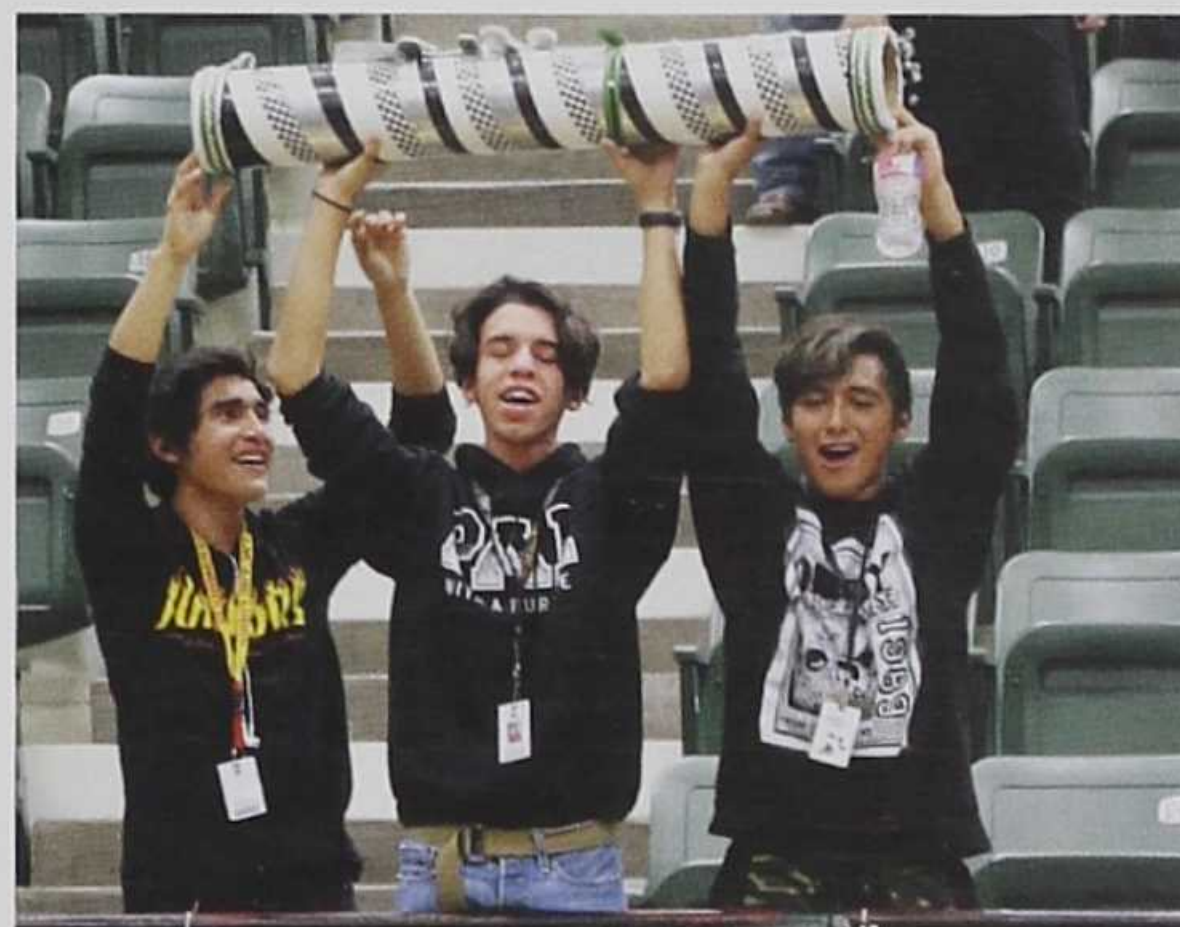

Real Men Wear Pink

BLACK OUT

The Black Out pep rally, held at the end of regular season football schedule, celebrates all sports, so the student body and community come together to watch dances and take part in fun activities. The assemblies are one of the major things KHS gets involved in. Dressed in black, students rally behind the athletes and vie for the Spirit Stick.

Wildcat Spirit

Junior Class of 2019, screams "V-I-C-T-O-R-Y, thats our Junior Battle Cry" to win the prized spirit stick.

To make the Pep Rally even more exciting the Drumline performed a series of cadences to end the Friday afternoon. They finished their performance with the crowd cheering them. From left to right: Andrew Brannon, Ryan Bunnell, and Trinity Tran and Max Lowry.

Singing for Their Supper

Students Perform at I-Sing

Capturing the attention of the judges, Brian Gomes delivers a stellar performance of "Creep" by Radiohead taking home the grand prize of $100. Freshmen, Alia Boubel shocked the judges with her performance of "The girl in 14G" taking home second place. Freshmen Maddie Fail secures third place with her incredible performance of "I Dreamed a Dream" from the musical Les Miserables.

Ten talented students participating in I-Sing this year got the opportunity to showcase their abilities and receive constructive criticism from a panel of 4 judges. This years judges were Coach Munson, Maestra Stephens, Mr. Oktay, and Mrs. Naughton. Standing by their side and providing support was O' Marion Reed as their Host.

Accompanied by Host O' Marion Reed Angelique Quick anxiously awaits the judges response. Satisfied by her performance of "Will You Still Love Me Tomorrow" Angelique stands confidently. With their uplifting comments judges encourage contestants to be their best.

Kathrine and Juliette David pose silly together creating the perfect picture showing their relationship.

Double, (or triple) Scoop

Parents having multiple births is a rare occasion in itself, but to have so many twins and triplets in one school calls for celebration. In classrooms throughout the school, matched sets of siblings learn together. Fraternal twin Kelsey Martin said, "I like being a twin because I've had a best friend since birth and I've had someone who's always been there on my side and always will be."

Now You Can Have Your Cake

James Stratton holds up his Hook 'em Horns school sign as he poses with the Texas Long Horn.

All the seniors finally took a deep breath and looked back at what they've accomplished. College Day had arrived. On National College Day Kennedale High School encouraged the seniors who have been accepted into universities to wear their schools apparel for the day to proudly show off their schools. Many of the students have chosen schools near by, although we have a few who are venturing out to further their education. Andrew Flanagan is headed to Jacksonville, Florida. This particular day was also the day athletes signed with the schools where they've chosen to continue their sport. Parents, coaches, and close friends came out to watch the signings. "It is amazing to see all their hard work pay off," says Coach Reue. "It is a unforgettable experience to be a part of." Not only have the teachers at KHS helped tremendously but the Go Center has played a part too. The Go Center is a place the students can get their many questions answered. Go Center workers help the students decide what school would be best for them financially, distance from home, and what school would be best for their aspiring major. It is an irreplaceable program.

College Day

Jessica Martinez stands proud with her Texas A&M flag. Many students have also chosen this school to further their education.

Jaden Knowles and Isaiah Butler stand together as they pose for their picture seeing as their going to the same school, Southwestern Oklahoma State.

The Go Center has been of great help to not only the Seniors but also the juniors here at KHS. Helping them chose their schools and get ready for the next year.

REMEMBER

RANDOM CANDIDS

As senior year comes to an end, we mourn and celebrate the end of an era. The Thirteen-Year Senior picture was just that: all of us coming together at the same place we all met years ago.

It was so cool to be back to the school and with everyone who went to school with me when we were young. Its crazy to think we've come this far.

PEOPLE

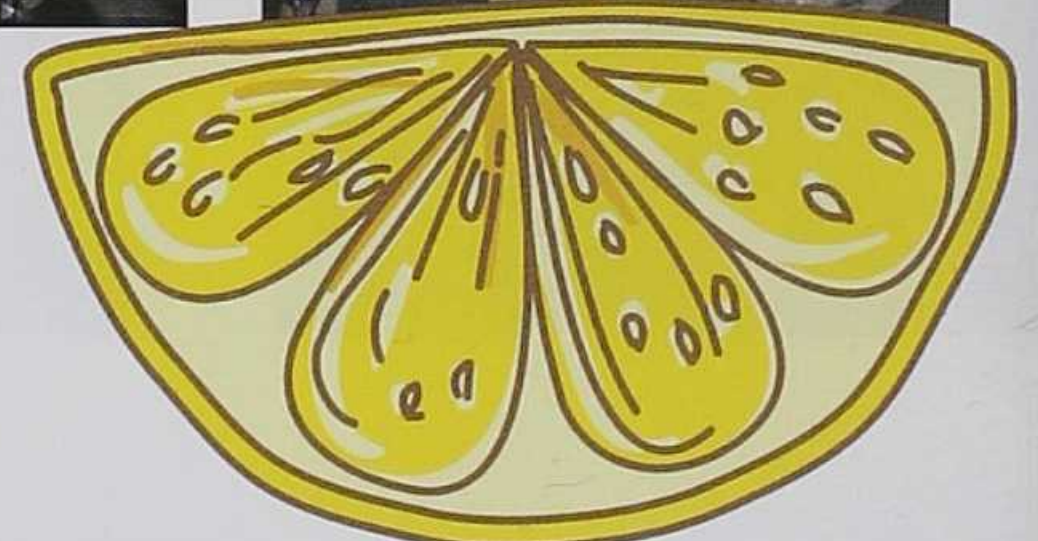

Back of the House

The cafeteria staff may operate behind the scenes, but they are an integral part of every school day. Providing breakfast and lunch for students and staff, these hard workers fuel the school. They balance nutrition, flavor, and economy to serve up delicious, nutritious, affordable meals that keep this campus going. Without them, we would have a hungry student body.

Working the Kitchen

"It's been a great year, I'll miss all the seniors leaving but I can't wait for the next one's coming in"
- Lisa Malin

Front of the House

ABOUT US

The front offices are staffed by some of the most dedicated Wildcats. From finding students for counselors and principals to marking attendance to taking hundreds of phone calls a day, these ladies are always on target. The help of student aides eases the load, but the whole campus runs smoothly because of the front-of-the-house staff.

A Strict Diet of Wildcat Spirit

Principal Micheal Cagel moved up to the high school after 4 years at the junior high. "Watching Wildcats succeed is my favorite part of my job."

Associate Principal Julia Stephen also came up from the junior high to be Associate Principal for Freshmen and Sophomores.

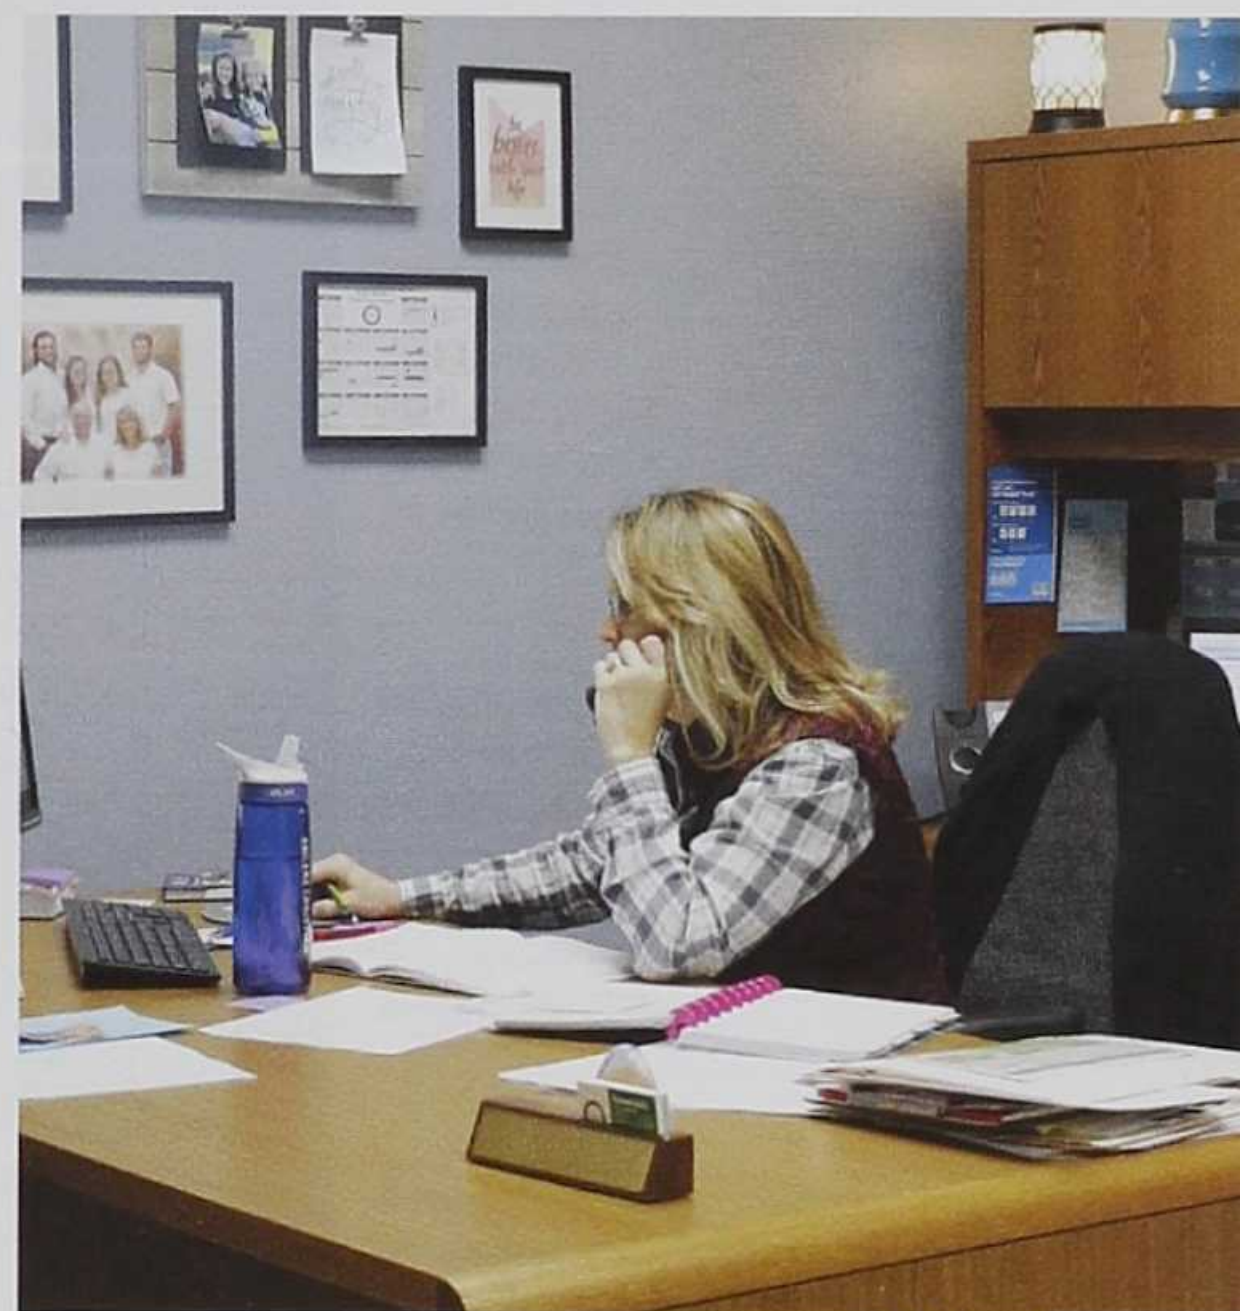

Assistant Principal Amy Newcomer returns to KISD after a year... She serves as the Academic Dean handling testing from EOC to AP and PSAT exams. "Moving up here was nerve wracking but I really do enjoy it here."

Assistant Principal DeKisha Browning returns as the Assistant Principal for Juniors and Seniors. "I've been here for awhile and I have to say its different every year, never a dull moment."

The work the counselors at Kennedale High School put in for all their students show just a little of their dedication this campus. New (to KHS, not to KISD) counselors, Mrs. Dawn Ramierez and Mrs. Kim Hunt have exceeded expectations starting new traditions like College Signing Day and the We Day field trip, while maintaining and improving programs like the GO Center. They help their students with more than just GPA calculations; they help students grow and learn and mature.

The Amazing English Department

Coach Jackson's Pre-apEnglish I students Obi Obuekwe and Kaleb Sheffield engage in To Kill A Mockingbird.

English teachers, Coach Cassandra Thibeau, Coach Richard Earle, Coach Rhonda Jackson, Mrs. Kim Padgett, Mrs. Wendy Thacker Mrs. Wendy Hale, Mrs. Erin Strange, and Ms. Elisabeth Brooke, are the main reason Kennedale High school has an E.O.C. passing rate of more than 60%. Not only are they well qualified, but they love what they do. With many different teaching styles, these instructors adjust to each and every one of their students to make sure they are successful.

Strange, Padgett, Brooke, Hale, Jackson, and Thacker pose in the 300 Hall beneath good advice.

A Yummy Slice of Pi

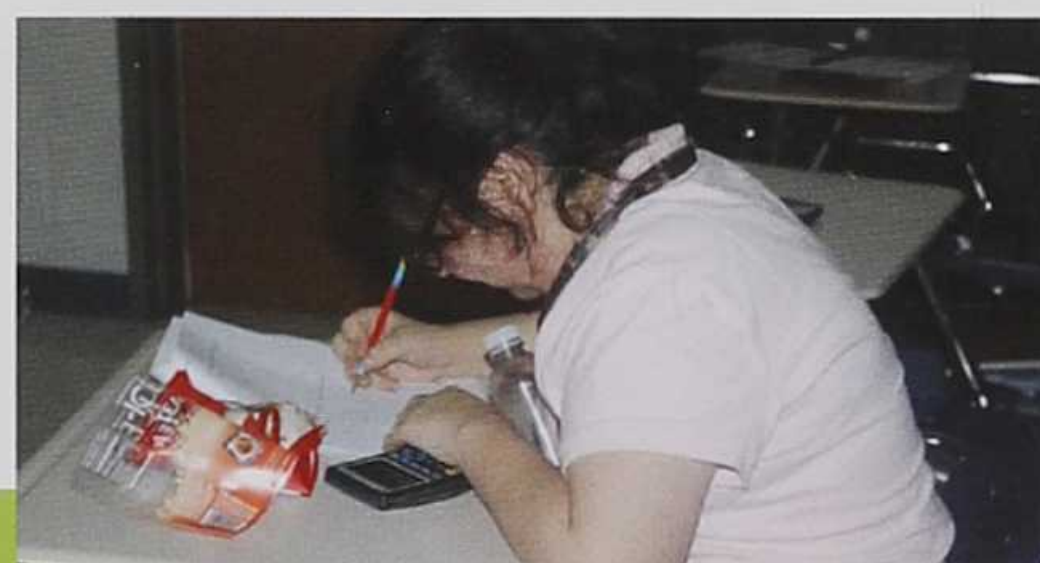

The 100 Hall is home to an amazing math department. Throughout the year students in the math classes have shown dedication in the classroom by continuous studying to improve their mathematical skills. The students work hard solving challenging equations, working with polynomials, and studying variables. Students can really count on math teachers Mrs. Tracey Hadaway, Mrs. Brittany Batzlaff, Mr. Charles Arnspiger, Mr. Matt Casey, Mr. Bryan Tickell, Mr. Kenneth Jowers, Mr. Joey Lucero and Mr. Clint Funderburk to teach them by the numbers.

Chemistry students create posters representing an element from the periodic table. They included creative ways to describe atomic mass, symbol, and other features.

MOLES

Chemistry classes create 'moles' to demonstrate the formula for (g/mol) Each mole contains 602 beans representing 6.021 (the number for one mole). Each mole is a character the students have come up with and that they decorated, dressed, and sewed themselves.

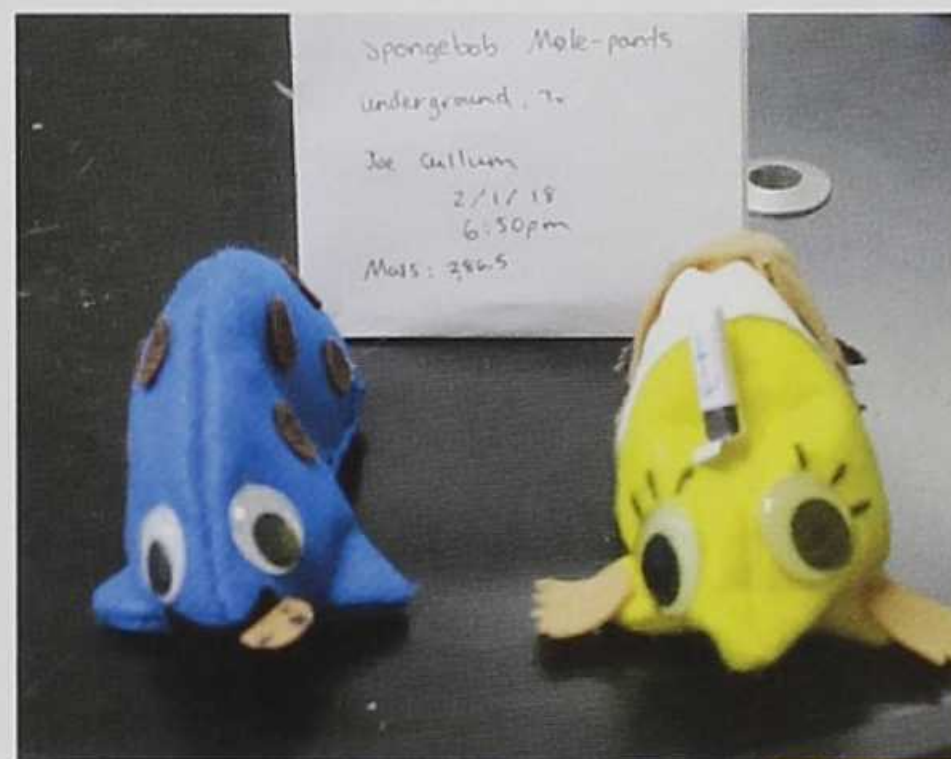

About Us...

The phenomenal science department. Offers a variety of classes to give each student an opportunity to choose what they are most interested in. Each teacher uses a specific teaching style to reach all their students abilities. Labs, notes, lectures, and interactive activities are used throughout the year in order for each class to learn what they need especially to pass the EOC (End of Course Exam) and semester final exams. Each teacher has been placed in a designated class that is best suited for them, and the students just love their KHS science department.

Students in Geography class are engaged in learning about the geography of America.

History is more than just a class at Kennedale High School; it's an experience. US and World History teachers Coach Kelly Kidd, Coach Allyson Stallcup, Coach Matt Munson, and Coach Paul Trantham lead students through ages of past events, while pro Coach Doug Watson and guru Coach Doug Groff help students make their entry into the worlds of government and economics, respectively. As their titles suggest, these teachers juggle the sport they coach and the lessons they plan. They keep the students' attention and help them learn about the past and the present and prepare them for the future.

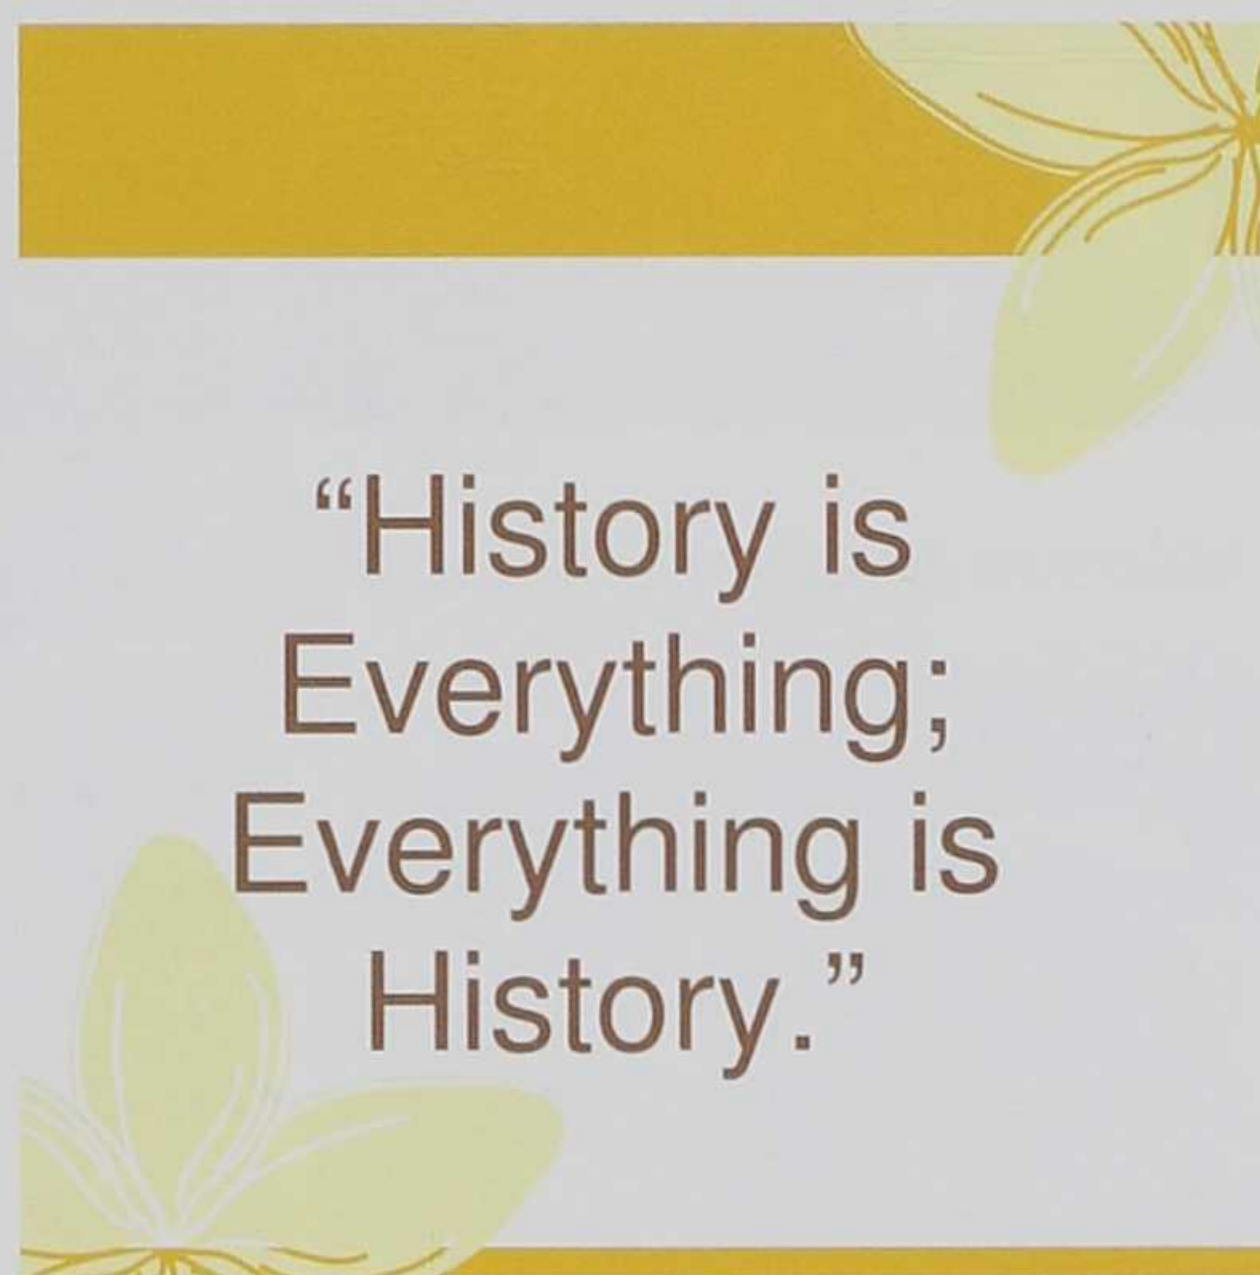

Known for their projects, group work, and interesting lessons, the history department at Kennedale High School comes up with so many exciting activities for their students. Coach Munson assigns a project called Trip Around America, where the students have to plan an trip around the country on a specific budget. Coach Kidd uses an activity involving throwing paper balls to show how wars escalate. Coach Groff's Stock Market contests pits students against each other and against Groff himself. A stroll down the 800 Hall can be an exciting experience, and a day in one of these classrooms is even more so.

Maestra Stephens, Maestra Gabler, and Maestro Aleman, the amazing teachers of the KHS Spanish Department, are responsible for the great accomplishments of their students. Students begin in Maestra Gabler's class, learning the basics of Spanish including grammar and vocabulary. When they advance to Maestro Aleman or Maestra Stephens in Spanish II, they expand their vocabulary and hopefully begin to become fluent., Maestra Stephens tackles Spanish III and IV where students are expected to speak more Spanish and even write essays. But it's not all "drill and kill; los Maestros introduce their students to Spanish and Hispanic culture with fun activities.

"Thanks to this class and the work I do in it, I have been blessed enough to get into the school of my dreams." He will be attending Full Sail University to study Film.

Lance Greenslade "AV has thoroughly improved my work ethic and really prepare for my life in the real world."

Aliyah chose to be in the A.V practicum because no school has anything like the Network. Her favorite part of going on air is the opportunity she gets every day to truly radiate positivity through the entire school.

MONEY HUNGRY

In Principals of Business Management and Business Management courses, students learn about the world of business. Instructor Steven Griffin runs Principals of Business Management as though it were a college course and it allows students to learn independently. The business practicum, known around campus as KAT, is lead by Coach Beck. His students help around the Junior High and High School. They make all of the trophies for the sports as well as helping out with the special needs prom.

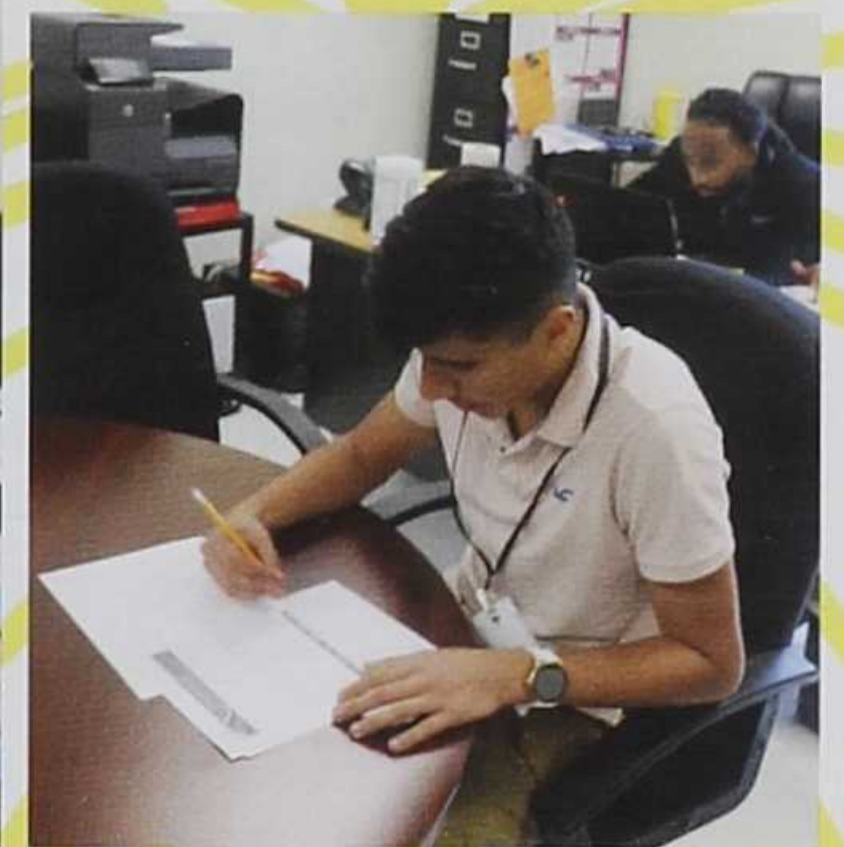

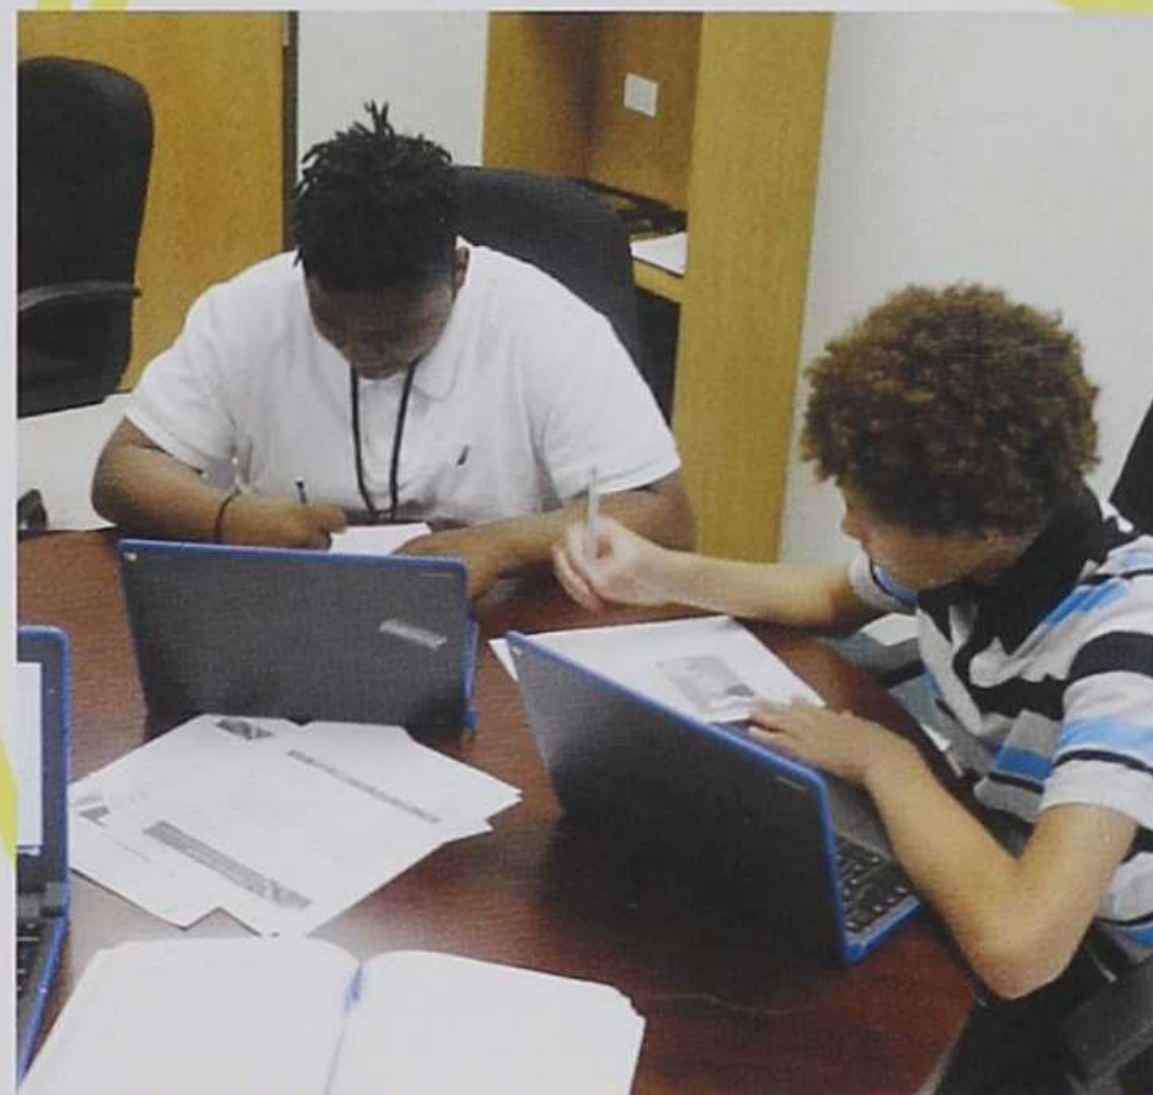

Evan Jowers, Chris Serwanga, Andrew Fanagan, Cole Elmore, and Brett Bostad are hard at work as they prepare medals for an upcoming track meet.

Busy at work, Wingfield's students focus on their google classroom assignment.

CTE Finance courses educate students about money and the importance of personal financial planning. Coach Aaron Wingfield teaches his classes to properly manage and understand finances. Students learn skills that will effect their longterm and short term financial stability. Along with everything else they are also taught the most efficient way to save the most money. This useful class emphasized bank record management, use of credit, investing, insurance and budgets and prepares Wildcats for life after high school.

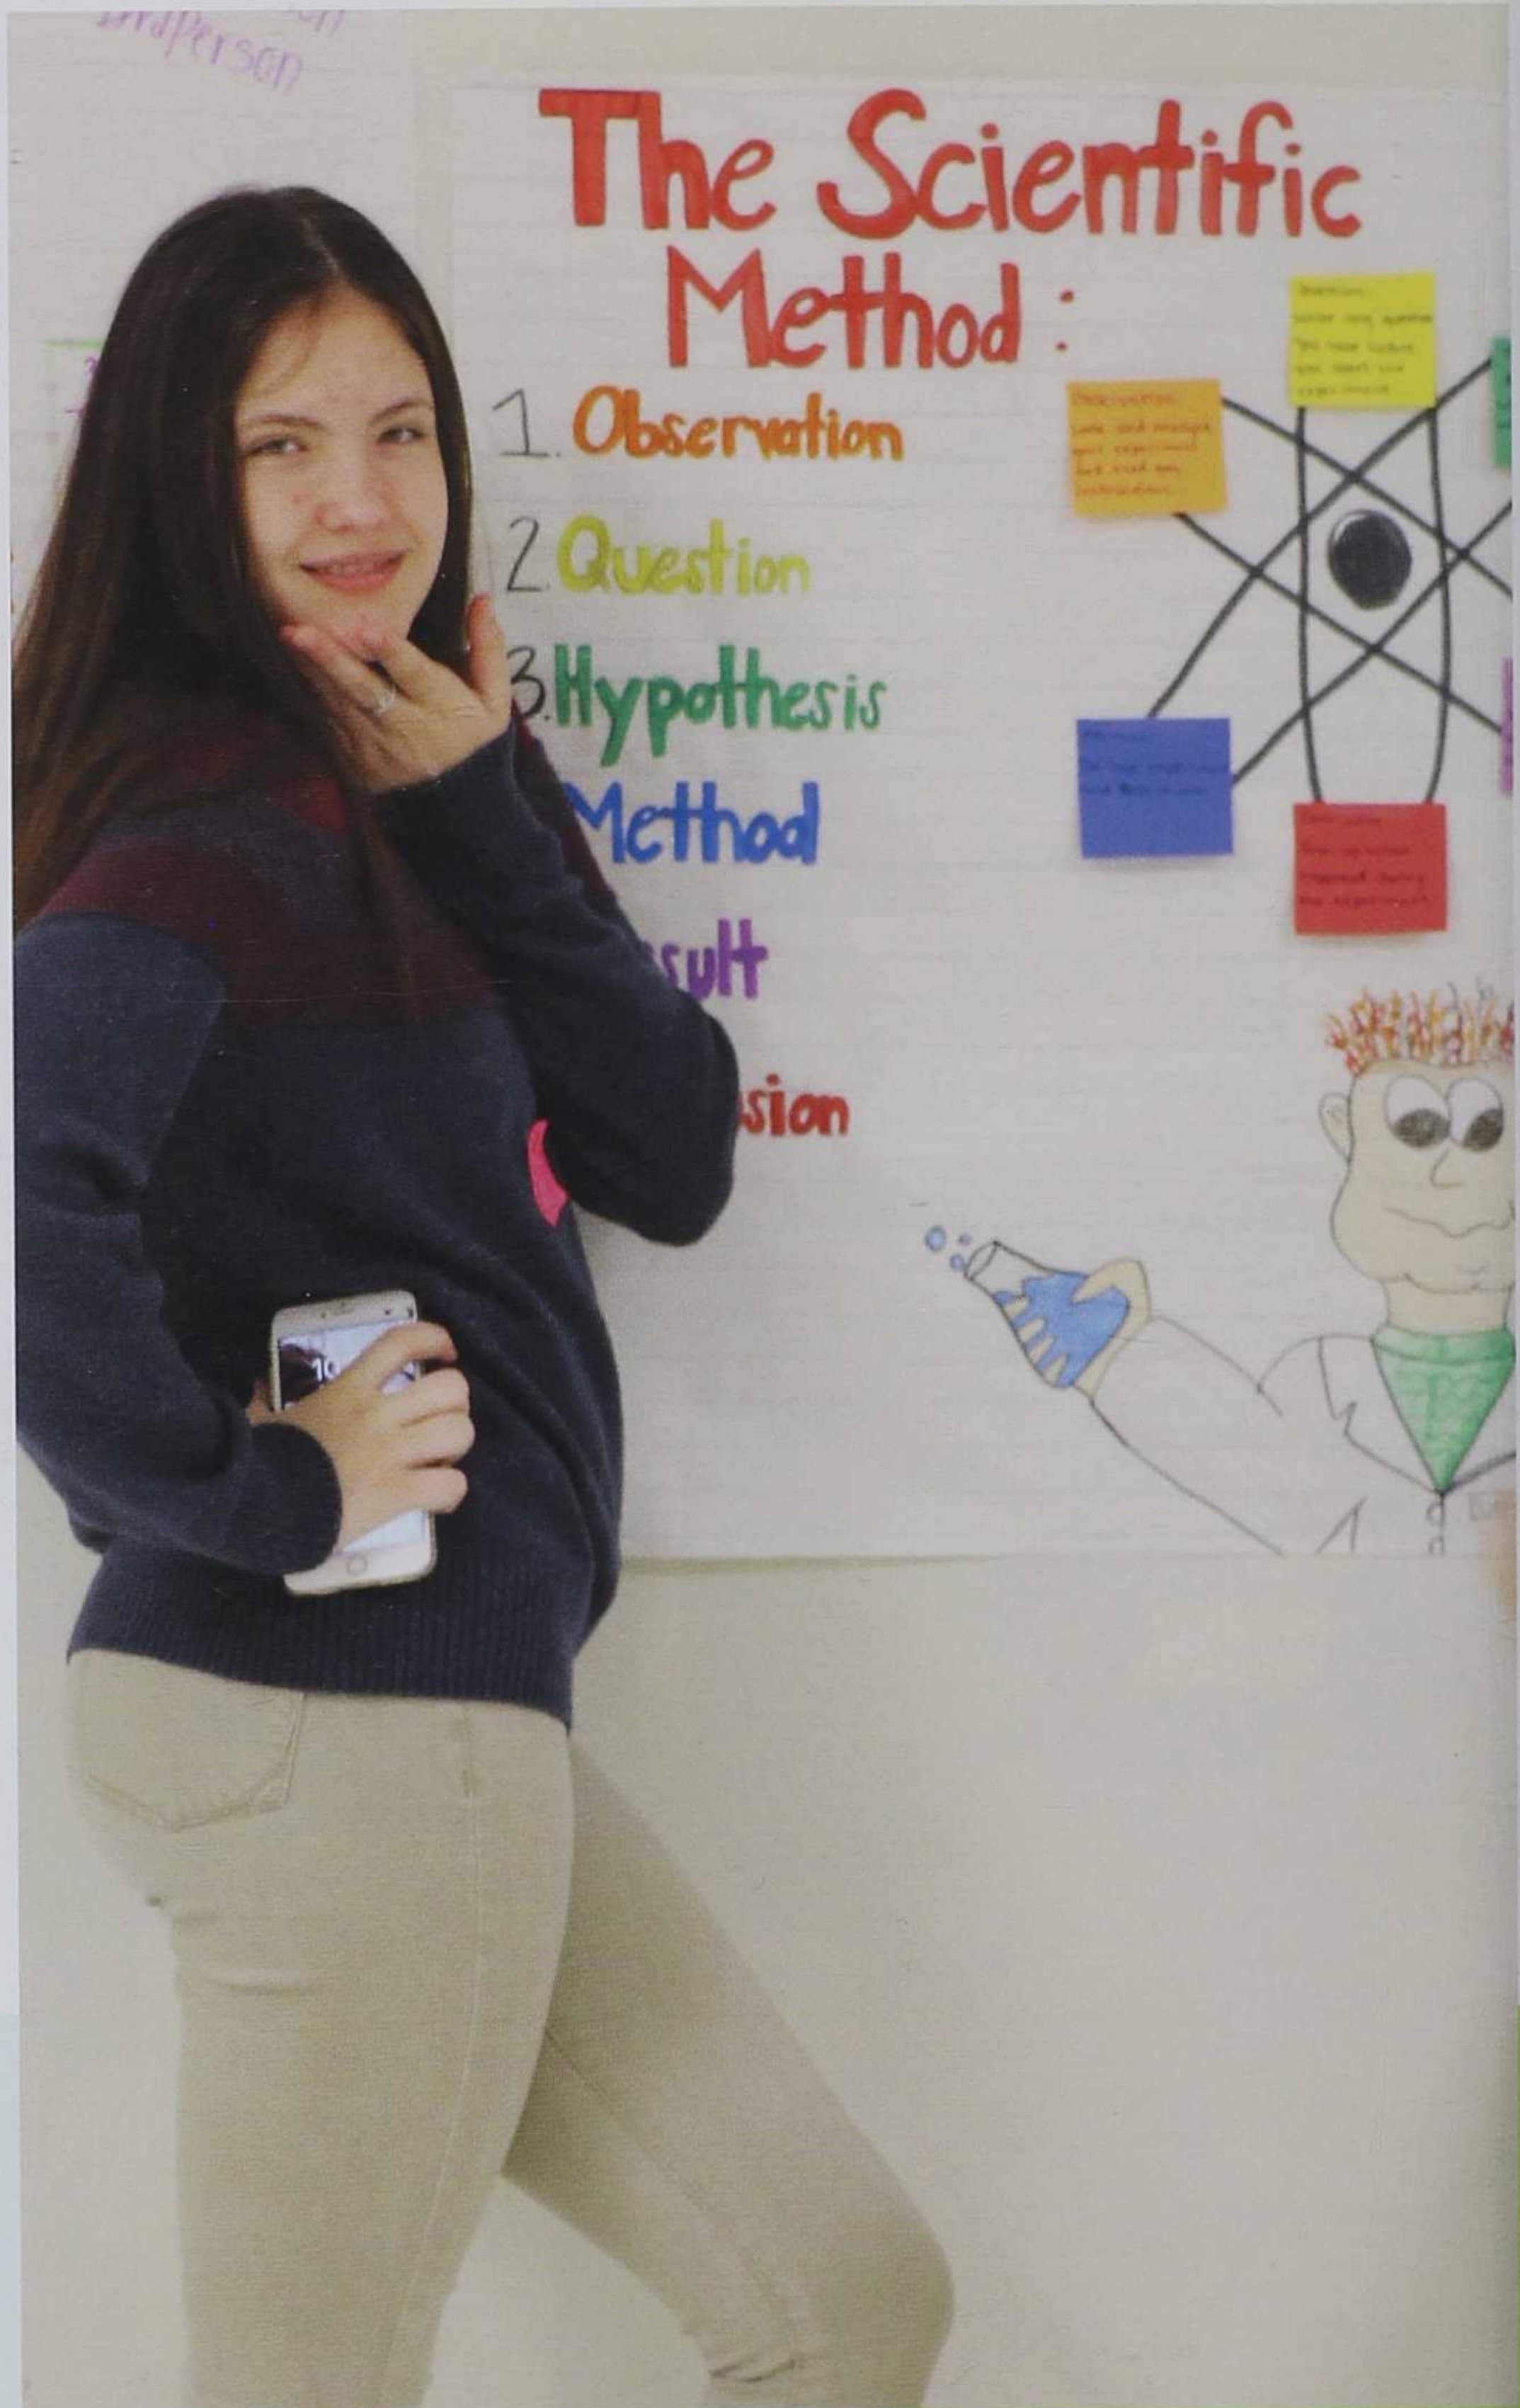

"I really enjoy this change in pace from the normal classroom."

Ready Set Eat Breakfast

"I really enjoy teaching all of the RST courses, not only because it is my dream job but also because I get to prepare students for the real world and teach them skills that they will be able to use when they become a teacher or not."

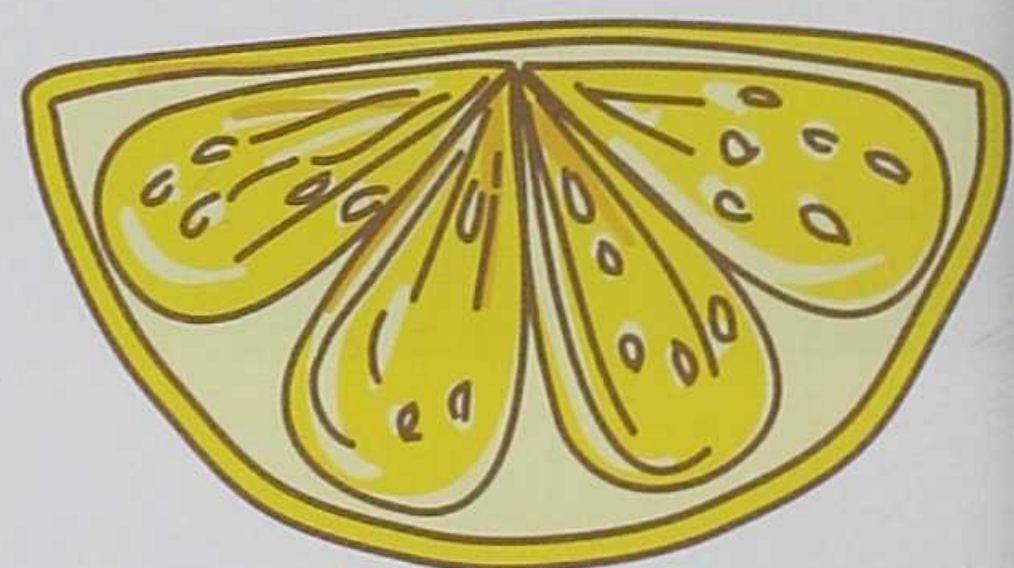

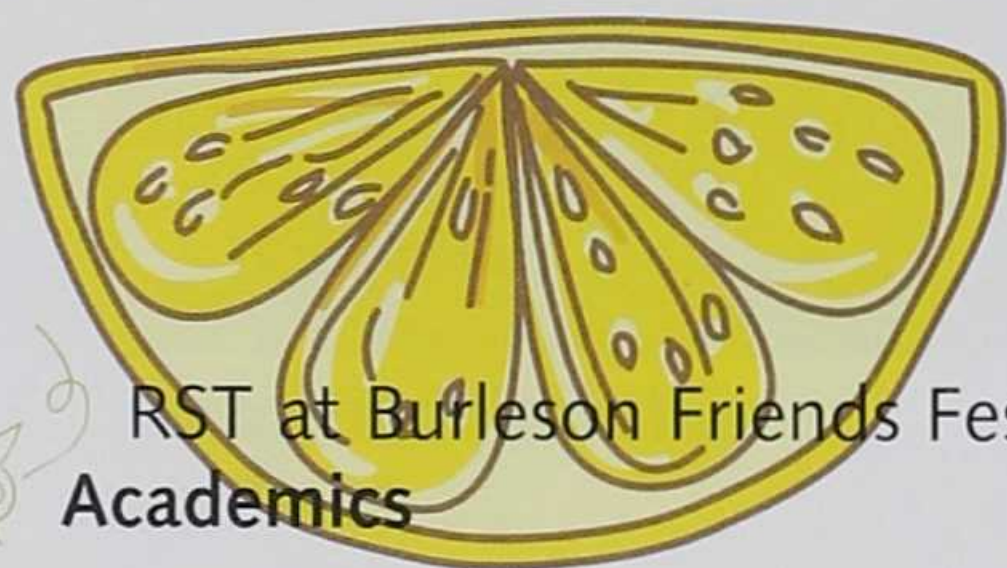

The Ready Set Teach program at Kennedale High School is a unique class in itself. The class prepares students for careers in education and child care. This class not only teaches students how to care for a child, but also how to educate younger children. "I've learned a lot about myself and about children in this class that I will carry with me forever." Kolbi Sipho says about her time spent in the class. This year the RST program received a new teacher, Chasmin Jenkins. Coach Jenkins has done more than enough for this program and this class.

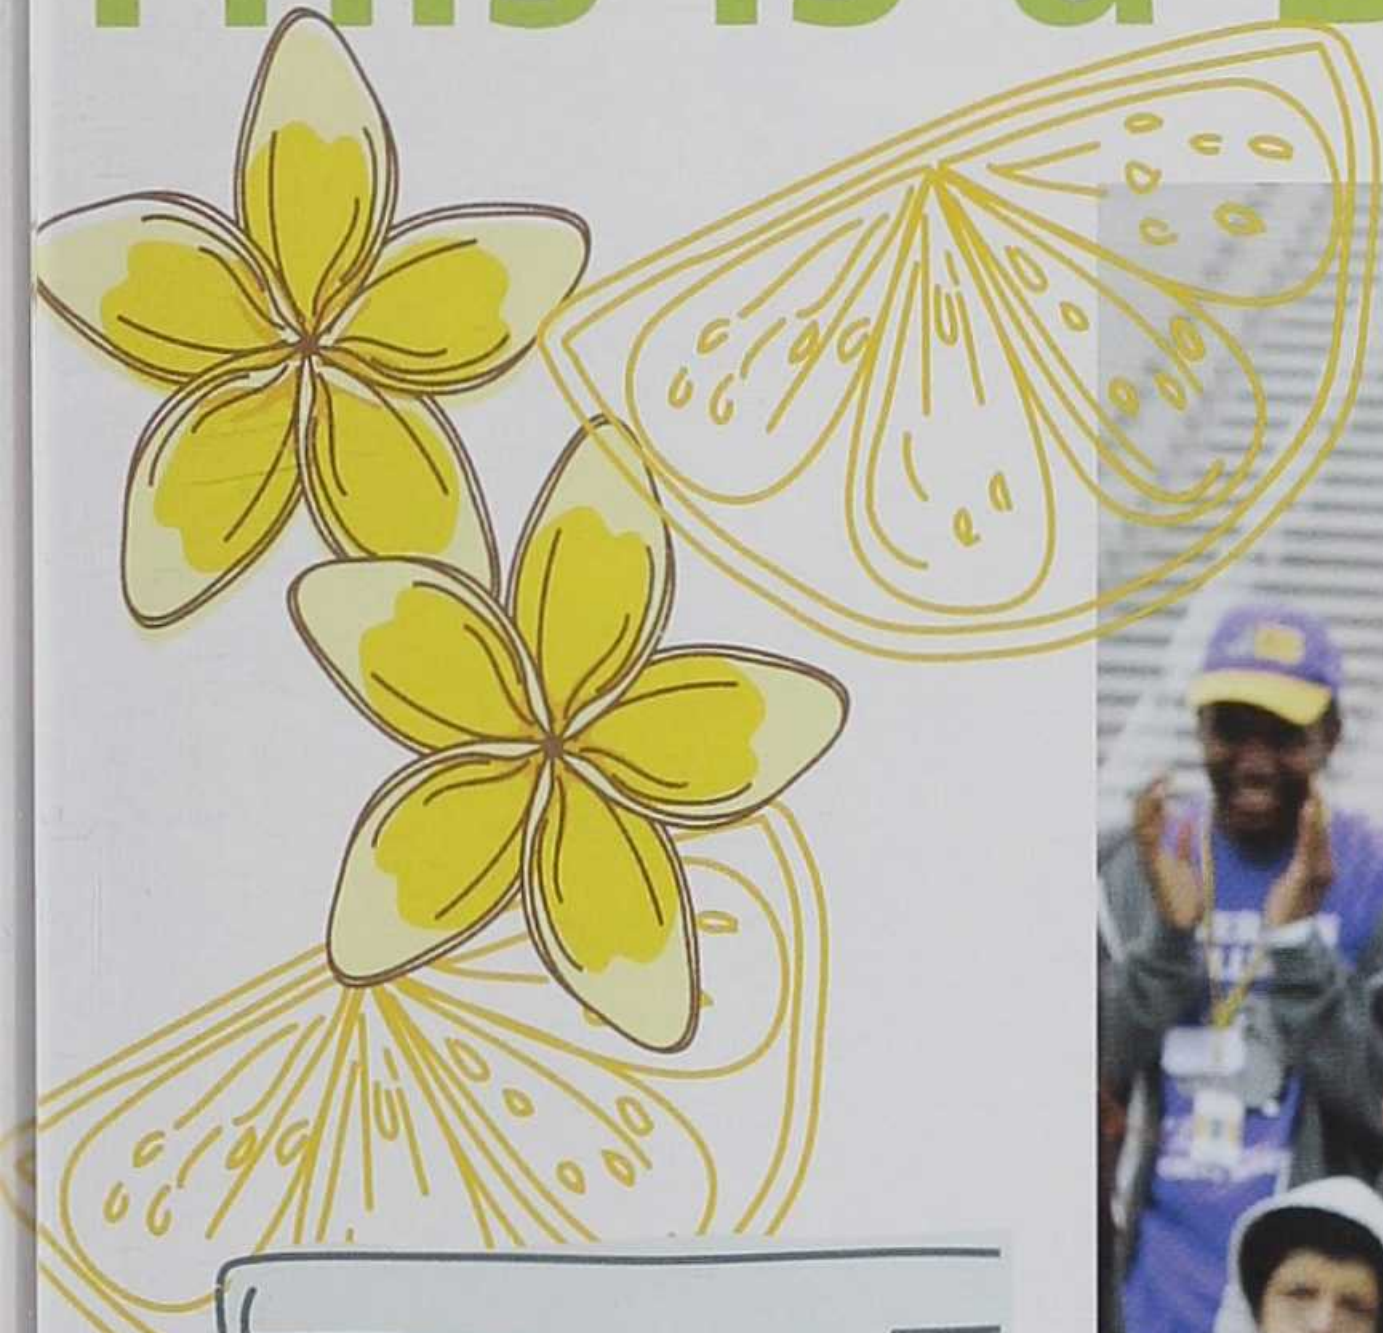

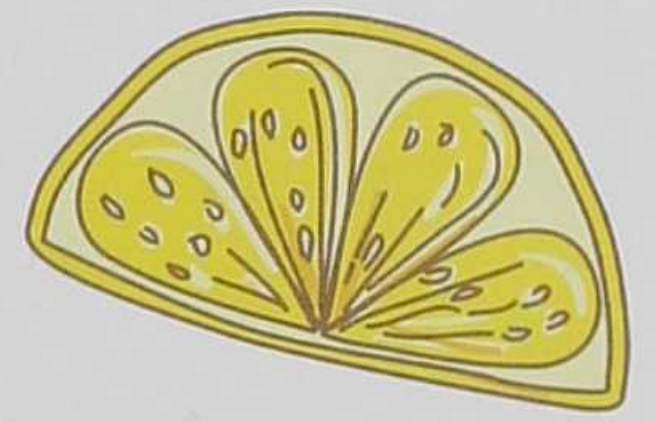

Burleson Friends Festival

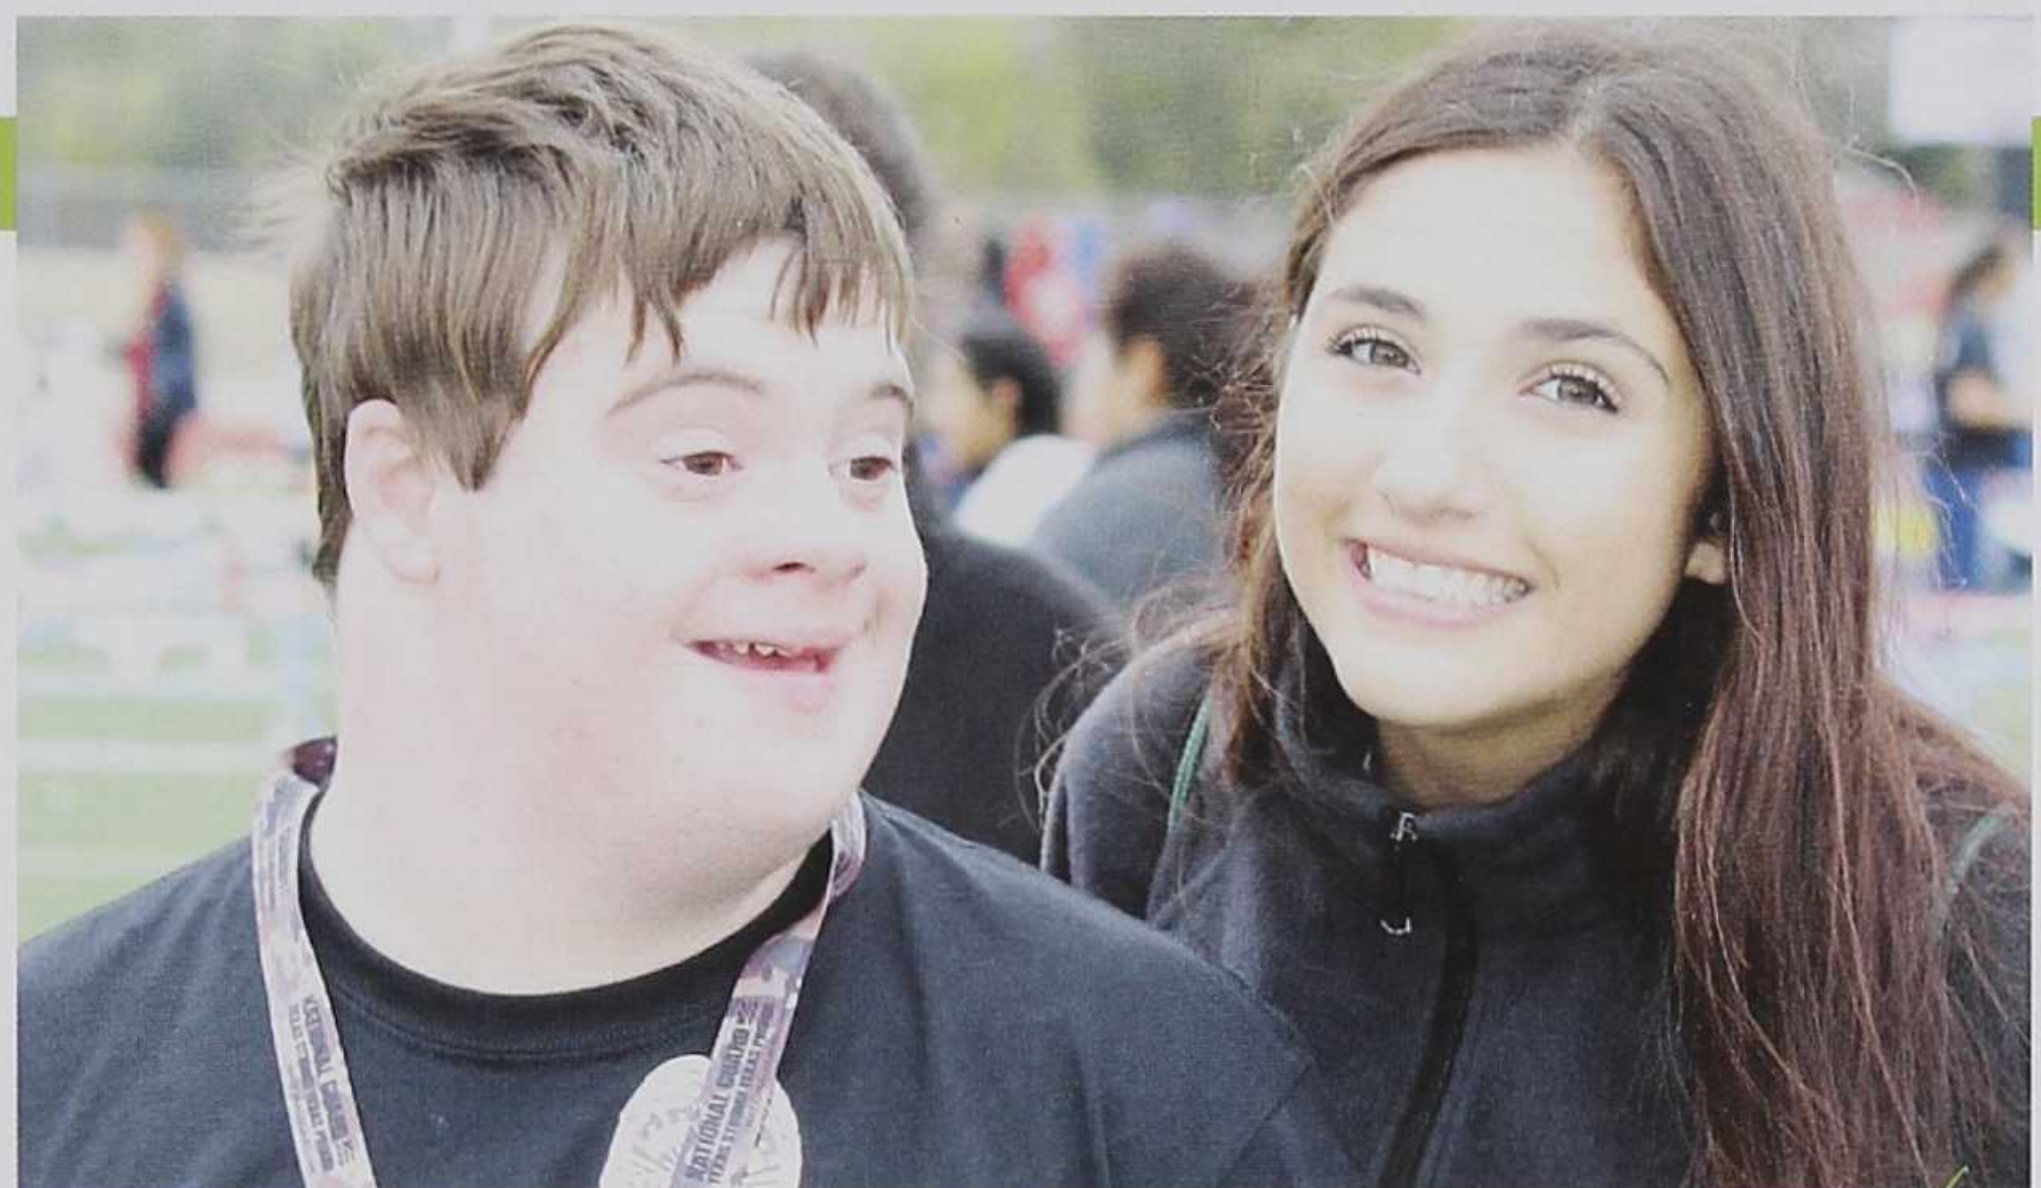

Making Sweet Memories

This is a Big Dill

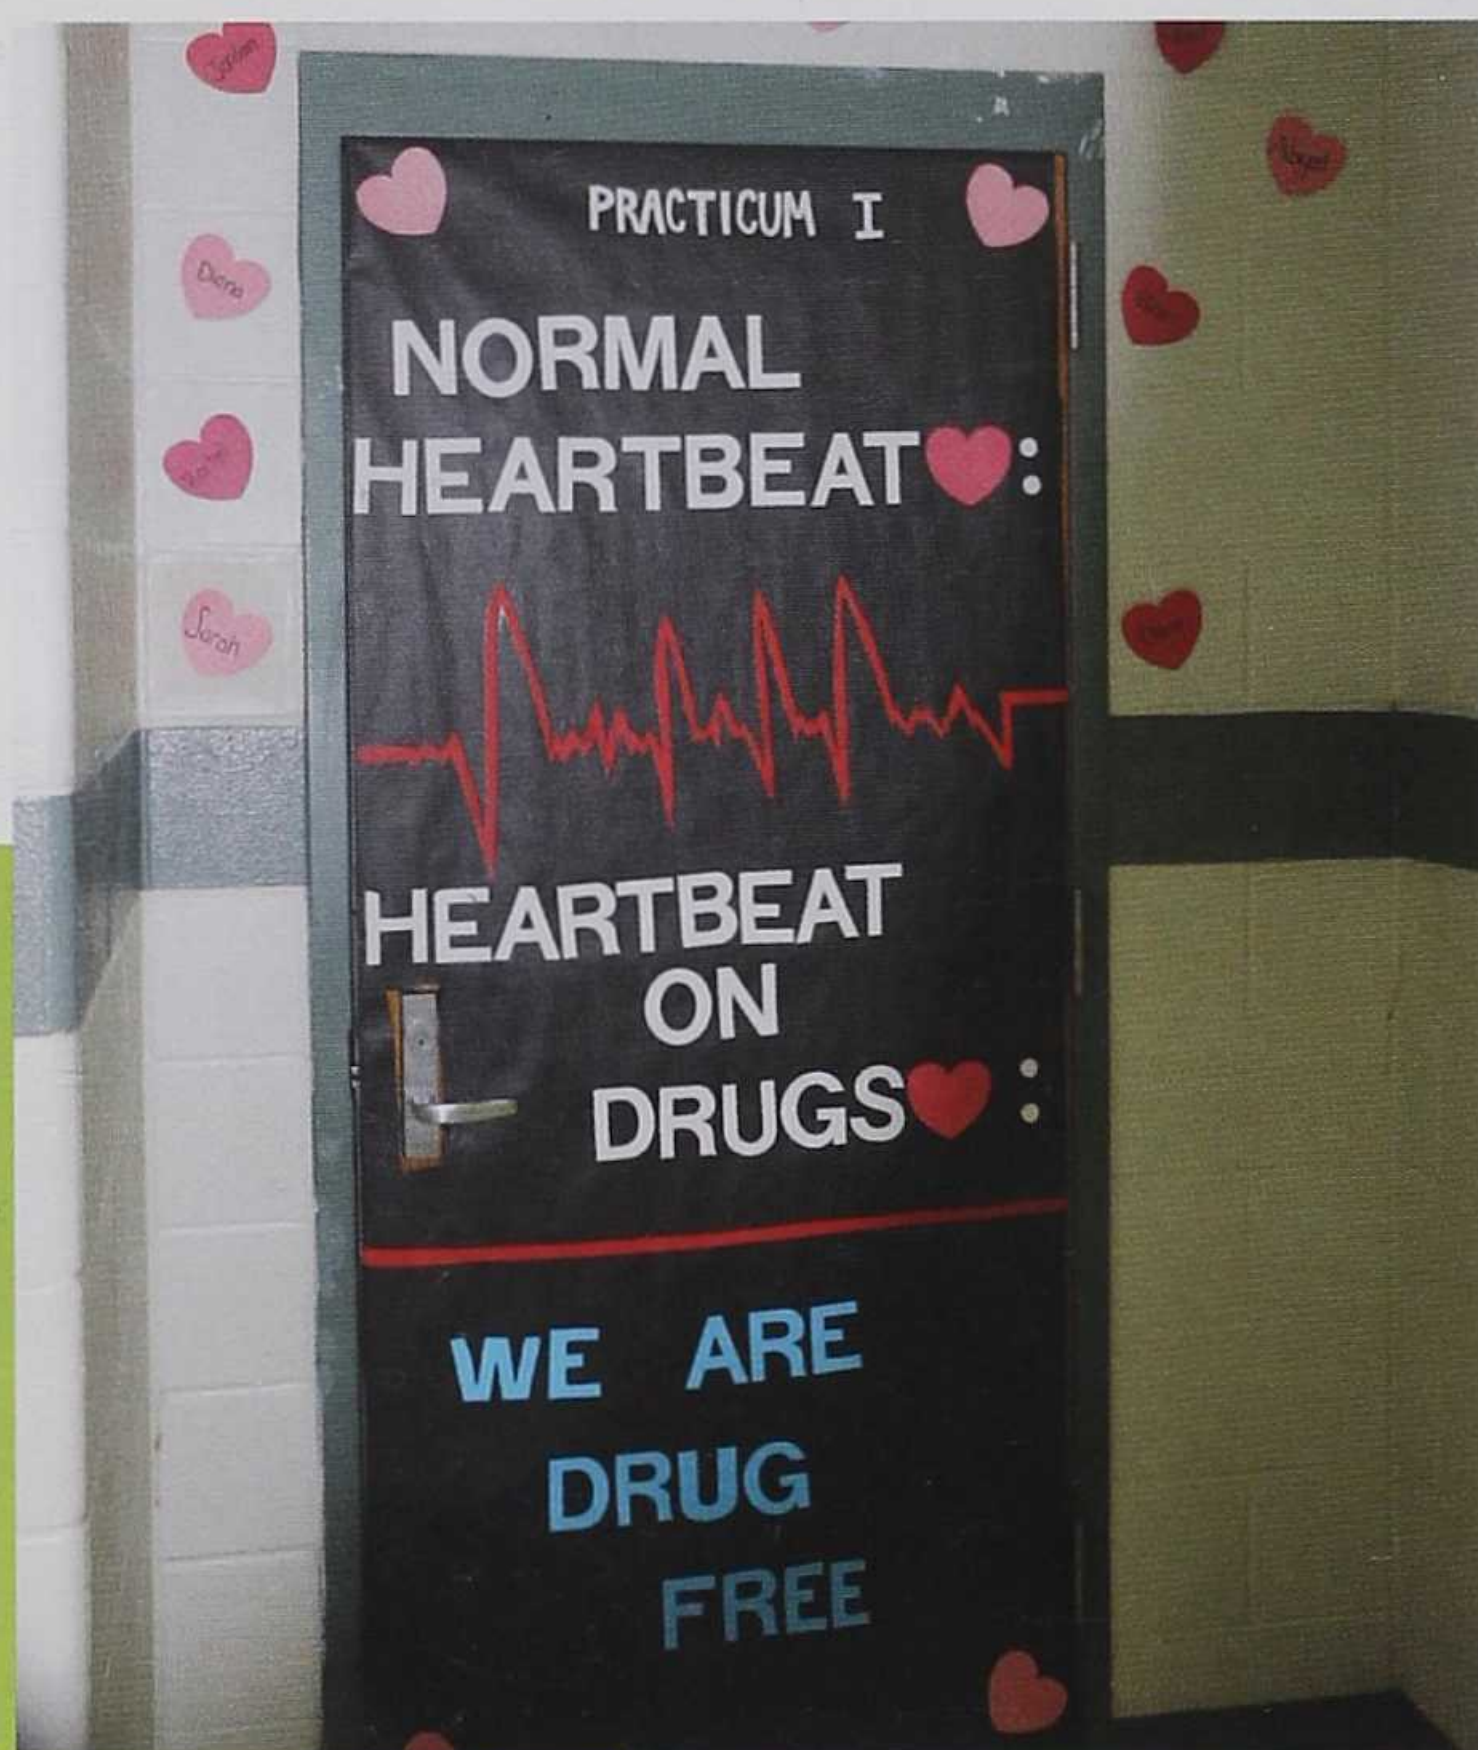

Students always look forward to field trip the school year, but the trip to Burleson Friends Festival with the RST Practicum students and a number of other KHS students was one to remember. Students on this trip work on many skills to build up abilities. They were pushed to always do their best even when they wanted to give up. This event helped encourage many of our students in places they were not as courageous in before. Mrs. Owens always tells her students, "It's okay to make mistakes because that's how we learn." Excellent words to live by.

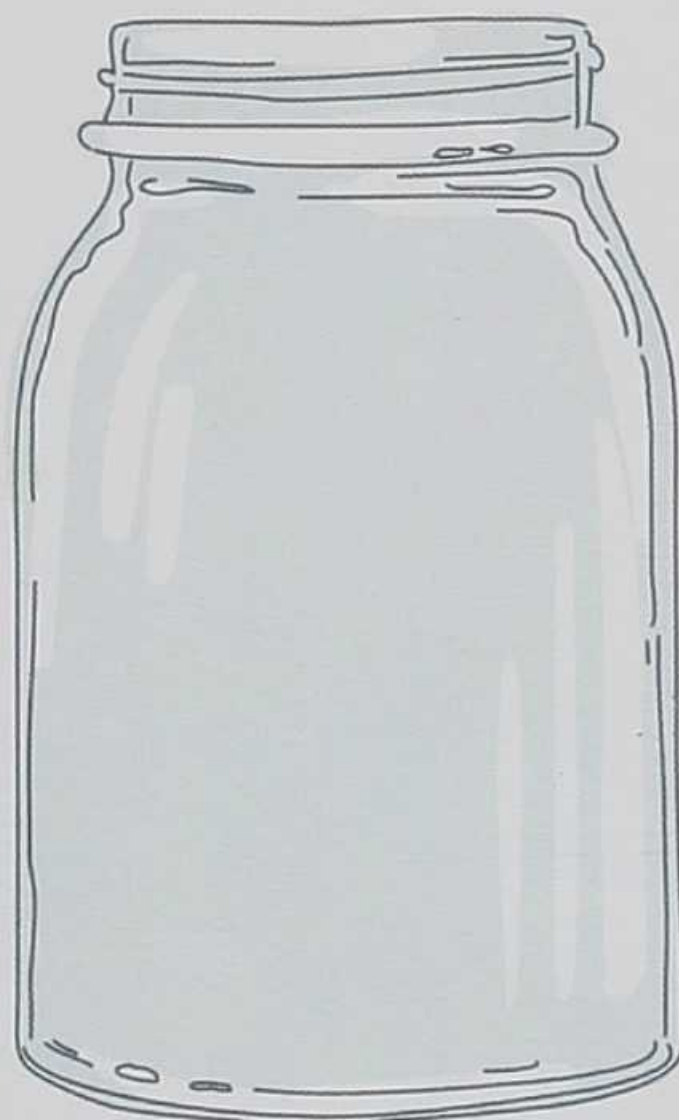

The Health Science program headed by Mr. Chris Burke prepares students who have a desire to work in the medical, dental or physical therapy fields for their future careers by teaching them skills they need to work with patients in the healthcare industry. The Health Science Practicum is an amazing opportunity to get real life experience in the hospital and get hands-on learning.

SPORTS MEDICINE

"Our goal is to help every athlete achieve their maximum level of performance."

The Sports Medecine program taught by coach Derek Lopez is a course that teaches students how to treat and prevent injuries related to sports and exercise. The class lets students experience real life situations in which they would have to deal with in their career by working with injured athletes here on campus to make to help rehabilitate them and fully recover them from their injuries. Sports medicine students are also taught to help patients regain strength and prevent further injury.

This year the PAL class shipped 85 gift boxes, spreading Christmas cheer around the world. Kennedale offers three years of Information Technology: Year one includes Principles of Informational Technology, Year two is Computer Maintenance, and Year three is Computer Technician. This promising program helps students grasp computer technology and so much more. These students learn how to program, code, and so much more in the few years they are in the class. The students then take their knowledge to UIL and compete in the many competitions that have for computer science. Our students never disappoint in showing us and other students how talented and intelligent they are.

UIL (University Interscholastic League) Academics is a competition where students across the state come to show their talent and skills in a number of different activities and events. The events range from math and computer science to literary criticism and journalism. There are many activities for students to compete in. Kennedale students have never let us down in their competitions. They prepare for their events diligently, taking practice tests, rehearsing, and even solving a number of equations. Certain tasks have specific ways of preparing themselves for the competition. Literary Criticism reads a series of books on literary terms, Poetry rehearses their poems to perfect the performance, Theatre have to make cuts to make the play run as smoothly as possible. Every activity has many different methods of preparing themselves for the competition.

With three stages to choose from, actors and directors at KHS are never at a loss for a place to shine. Between the PAC, the auditorium, and the back of Ms. Genevieve Croft's classroom, students perform, improvise, sing and dance. Technical Theatre classes learn lighting, sound, and set design. Students who participate in productions earn points toward membership in the Thespian Society. Each student dedicates their time to memorize the scripts and release their fears on stage. Kennedale High School has always had an amazing theater department, but this year is definitely a year to remember. From the late hours to the early mornings every hour is worth it.

everyone who represented KHS scored 1s, the highest rating. Soloists, Hubenak, Haylee Schofield Hannah Malone, Noah Wyckoff, William Badger, and Angie Blanco all qualified for State. If there is a campus-wide activity, service project or fundraiser being planned, chances are there is a Student Council member behind it. StuCo, as the group is known, is led by students from every grade who are interested in making the campus a better place. These students are active not just in StuCo, but in a number of other organizations and activities. As such, they are the voice of the student body. They help share student ideas, interests and concerns with the school wide community. XXXOfficers

To kick off the 2017-2018 year the Key Club and StuCo hosted a Halloween Social. Students played fun games and ate a lot of pizza.

Service With A Smile

National Honor Society may be the most informatively named organization on campus. It is a national society that is an honor to be a member of. Students are honored for more than just their grades; they are granted membership for their service to the community as well. Kennedale NHS members preform community service around Kennedale and volunteer at the KHS blood drive every year. Sponsors Wendy Hale and Chriss Burke guide students to become better citizens. Of working with the NHS students, Hale said, "Mr. Burke and I feel especially fortunate to be able to work with this outstanding group of students; our goal is to not only recognize these students' academic achievements but to also foster an appreciation of giving back to their communities. This year's members have volunteered at Kennedale's annual Trunk-or-Treat program, assisted Mission Arlington with their Thanksgiving dinners and worked the Mission Arlington Christmas Store. Our members have also organized and manned the fall and spring blood drives, in addition to completing their personal service hours."

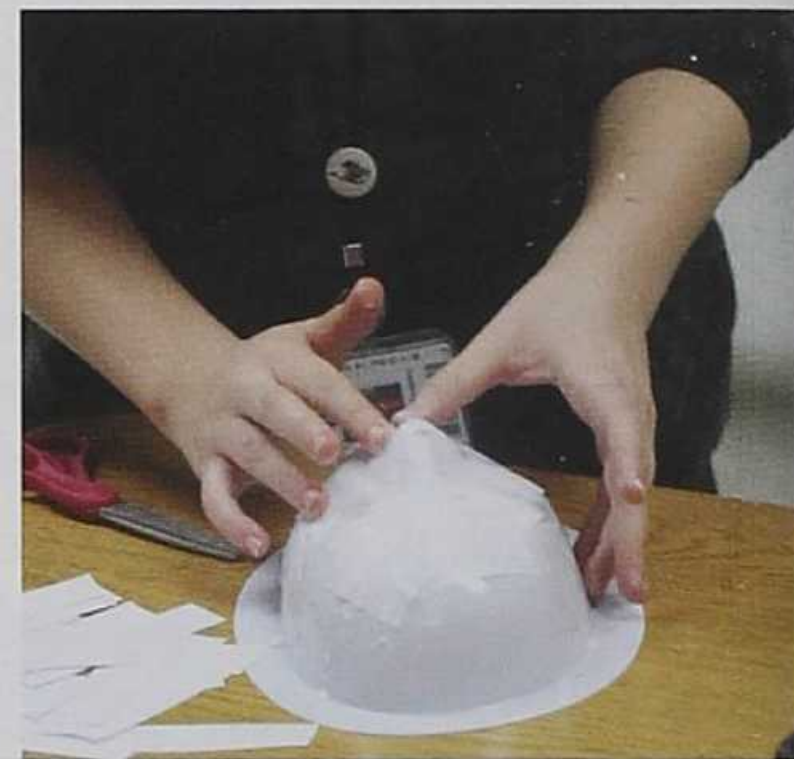

Each School year the National Honor Society hosts a blood drive, where students can donate their blood, not only to save some lives, but also to earn credits to earn a red cord to wear at their graduation.

Mrs. Cullum is kind enough to offer this club for students, giving extra help and creating a fun environment for after school.

Key Club

Key club is a chance for everyone to take part in bettering our community. Members volunteer their time and efforts for activities in or around the school to help others. These activities are beneficial to both the students and our school. Not only do they volunteer to help our school, their efforts are also used to benefit the community in Kennedale. Mr. Aleman is the wonderful sponsor of Key Club, helping teach the officers and members the value of leadership. Key Club helps show the importance of leading others in bettering our community by giving up our own time and efforts to be generous.

Stallcup's club members really enjoying playing their games with the group.

"In this club we mostly played on the WiiU and things could get really competitive because we were all fighting for bragging rights ... it was a very intense and fun aroma and I really enjoyed it."

From the reactions of the attendees to discussions about ACE, it is clear that the after-school program has a positive affect on the students who participate. ACE is a place to make friends as well as get help with any homework. Not only that but there are meals provided and a bus home for the students at the end of the day. Director of ACE, Rob Shelton described some of the successes. "The tutoring this year has been much more prevalent and we are continuing to add many more activities including, Pokemon Club, ACT and SAT prep, and drivers Ed. All these activities are available free to all their students." Ace has become the place to be at KHS.

ACE has given us all a chance to build new bonds and create friendships with many new people."

Some Berry Fast Girls!

Coach Evans and Coach Stallcup led our girls cross country team with expectation of a positive attitude each day. The girls practiced every morning alongside the boys team.

They set themselves the goal to beat all personal records, and throughout the season each girl did. Cross country requires physical and mental strength and luckily these girls have both.

The Ladykats showed great mental strength during the year with some impressive times and remarkable attitudes. The only girls runner to make it to regionals, Sarays Flores, ran against some quick athletes and managed to do very well. This strong group of girls did not struggle to amaze.

These men were so dedicated to the sport that they ran all through the town of Kennedale. Such great work ethic and leadership within this team could be seen from a mile away. Every athlete did his best to decrease the time in each of the distances. This undoubtedly was responsible for the many impeccable runs this season. This made for a very fun coaching year, as the girls brought a higher level of competitive spirit and ability to every match. They never gave up, and I'm excited to watch them excel in the volleyball program in the coming years."

The Varsity football team has always made us proud with their outstanding success. This year they went above and beyond. They not only gave us a win every time we were on our turf, but also took us all the way to the state championship game for the first time in school history. The entire school followed them on this journey from Kennedale to Nacogdoches to Frisco, ultimately leading back to Arlington at the AT&T Stadium to give it their all at the state championship game. Head coach Richard Barrett summed up the season when he said, "It's about the journey, not the destination." The Wildcats went 9-1 in their regular season, 19 seniors led the football team this year, leaving a legacy of dedication, teamwork, and victory behind them.

The work for the boys varsity basketball team started early the school year to get to where they are today. These young men spent hours on the court and in the weight room trying to better themselves as a team and as individuals. The team gained motivation from Head Coach Doug Groff who had high expectations for his players. Many responsibilities came with being a varsity player; more pressure and more attention. The sophomores, juniors, and seniors on this team created a bond that cannot be broken, which has helped them on the court defeating their opponents.

Trainers are usually in the background and no one really pays attention to them until they are needed. They are a tremendous help to the athletic program. Their job, keeping athletes safe, keeps them on alert during games making sure no one gets hurt. They are on their feet after games tending to athletes who just played. Trainers also work hard making sure athletes get the best possible help to keep them up and in the game.

When the Aristokats hit the floor, there is no five-second rule. These talented dancers go all out for the full three minutes of their music. Performing at football games, basketball games, and pep rallies, the squad coached by Elise Barrett, lifts the spirits of the fans and raises the roof. They began working in September creating routines and raising money for their season. Now new members on the team are continuing to better the team. Kiley Zeller, a member of the team since her freshman year, scores sevens, eight, nines, and tens in the first couple of rounds. NOAH DIXON

His eye is on the sparrow and I know He watches over you
I am so proud of you
Love Nana

We are proud of you, our son, on how far you have come. It has been amazing to watch you grow into the young man that you have become.

Your accomplishments mean a lot to all of us. Thank you for being such a great son. Remember, learning is contagious, you can never learn enough. You are a God-fearing young man and it has paid off.

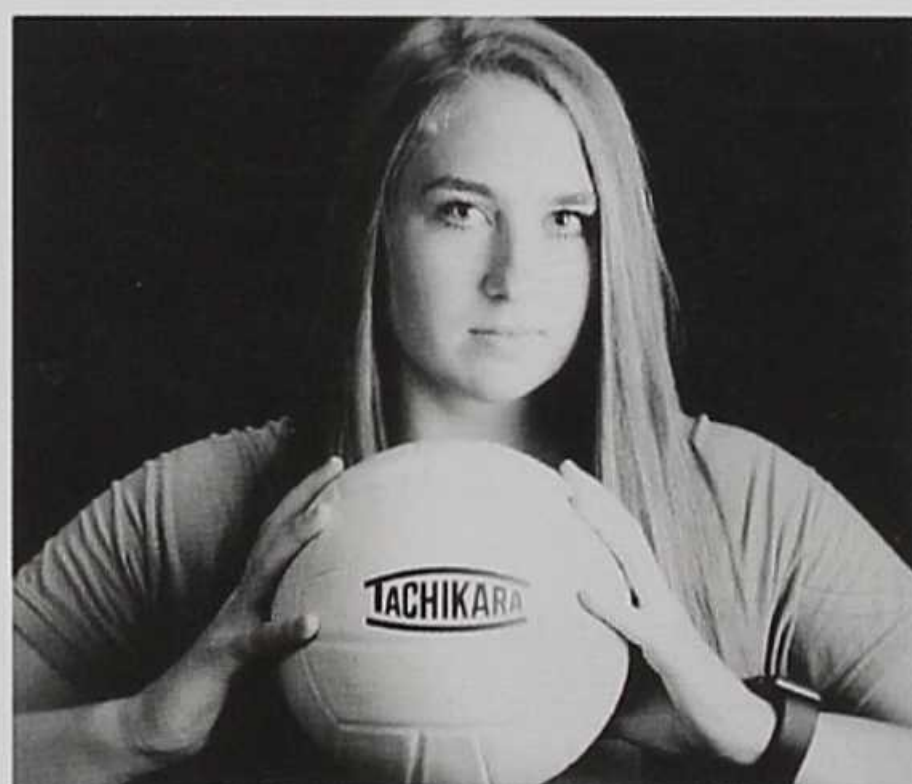

Remember to keep God in your ear as you go through life's journey and know that He is always by your side.

We love you,
Mom, Dad, Sheba and Victoria

Chris Serwanga

Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or terrified because of them, for the Lord your God goes with you; he will never leave you nor forsake you. Deuteronomy 31:6

*Thank you for choosing us to help guide you through this game called life. You are in the driver's seat of your own destiny. Create your future, chase your passion and love your life.
We love you to infinity +1.*

We've watched in amazement as you've grown into the person you are today, and we're watching with great anticipation to see what you will become.

With your talent and determination, the sky's the limit!

- Love,
Mom & Pops

Jacquelyn Kristine Fennel

Jacquelyn,
We have watched you grow into a beautiful, responsible, strong willed young woman. Life is what you make of it and I know with your goals and ambitions you will attain whatever you seek!

We are very proud of you and your accomplishments thus far. Sky's the limit and we are excited to watch where the next chapter of your life takes you,

We love you with everything we are!

Love and support always,

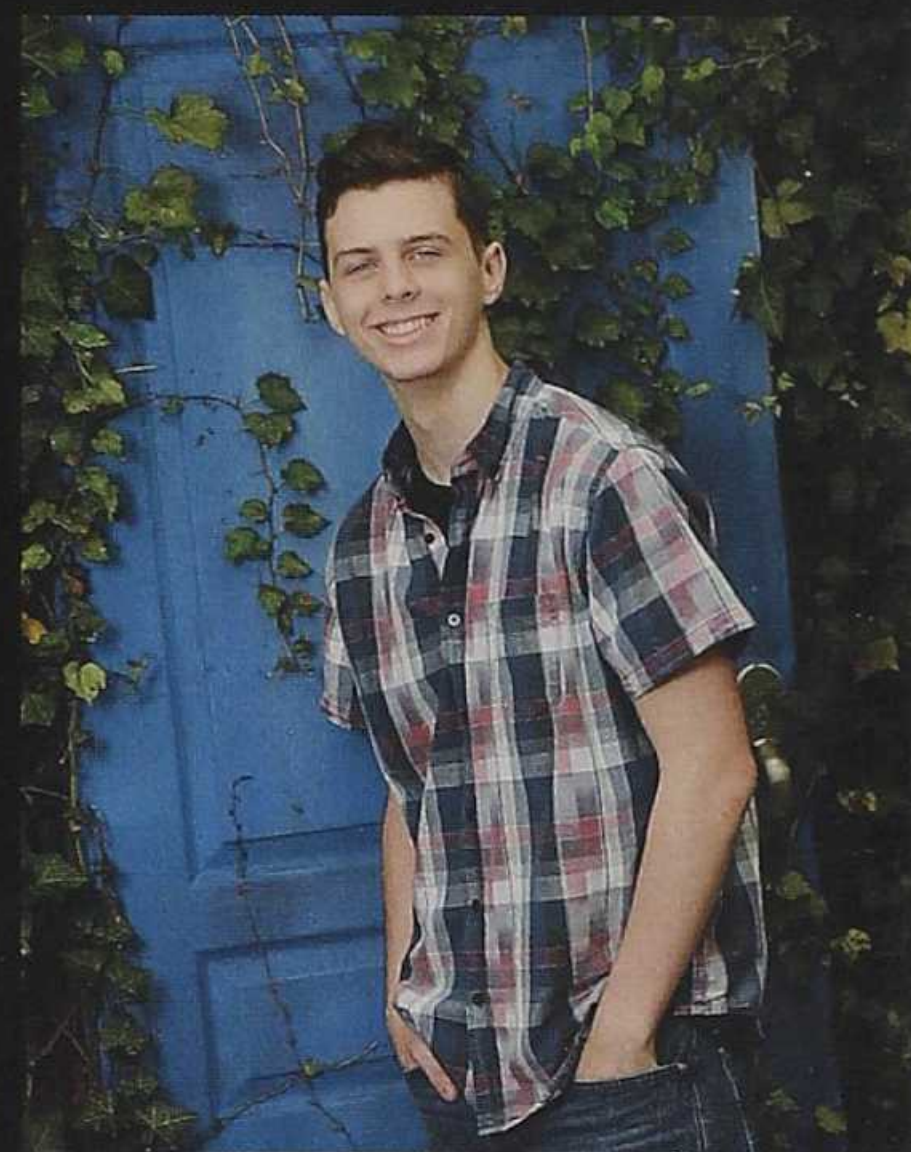

Dad and Mom

Lane Hubenak

We watched you grow in the belly
We watched you breath life
We watched your first steps
We watched you smile and cry
We watched you talk
We watched you write
We stopped to blink
And years had passed
The boy we watched
Was a young man too fast
We watch you follow your path
We watch you become your own
We watch and hope you will know
We watch because we love you, son

In what seems like the blink of an eye, you've gone from being an inquisitive toddler to what you are now - a strong, interesting, talented, creative, funny, hardworking, intelligent, and compassionate young man who we are so very proud of. It has been a blessing and an honor to watch you grow up to become such an incredible person. We love you!

"Taylor Boggs is a very kindhearted individual and has helped me excel in my writing and vocabulary during the year of working with her." - Tyi Schwartz

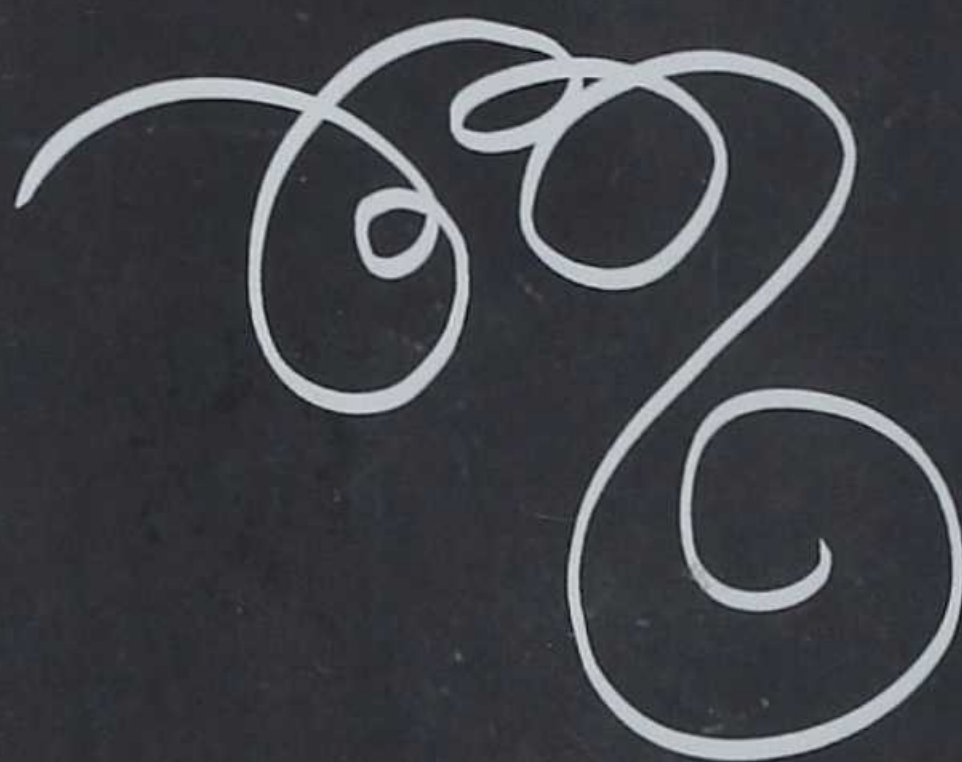

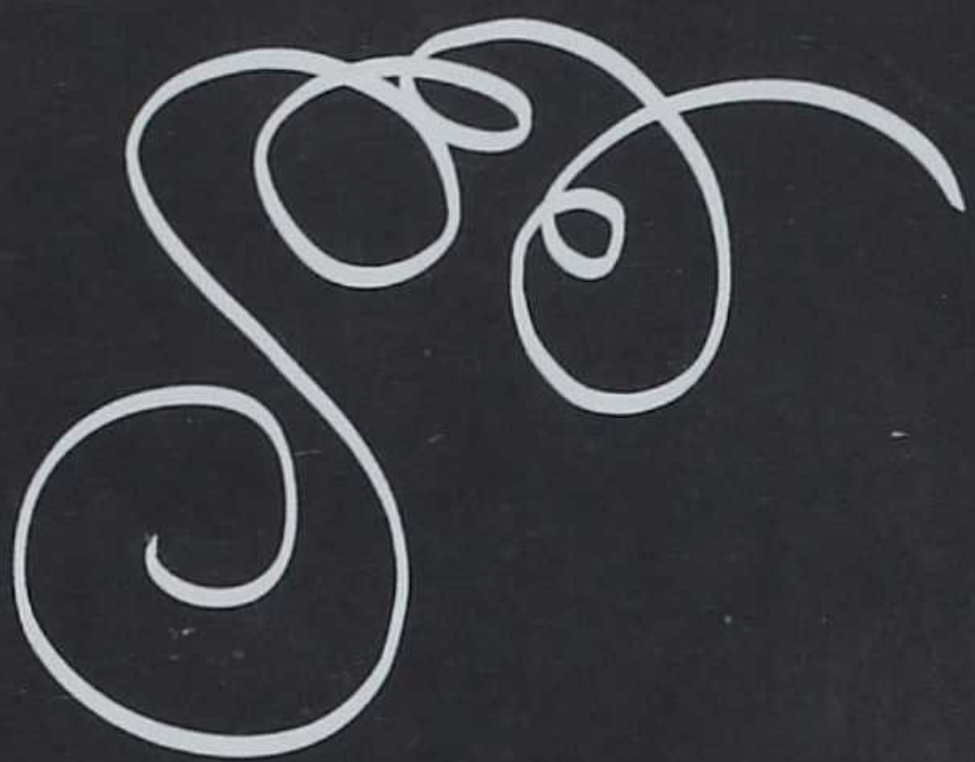

"I really couldn't have done this without Ms. Brooke help and I couldn't imagine putting this book together with anyone else." - Courtney Johnson

"I loved watching this group of students come together as a staff; they balanced all their commitments and produced a fabulous book. The editor in particular showed what it means to be a leader." - Elisabeth Brooke

"Erlyna Morgan is such a hard worker and whenever I needed help she was right there. She's always someone I can go to if needed." - Kelsey Martin

"This staff was honestly amazing. We had so many bumps in the road but none of it seemed like a big deal because I knew I had them with me. I've grown so close with them throughout the year. I know I'm going to cry when I have to say goodbye." - Courtney Johnson
